ACROSS AMERICA.
THE SOLDIERS' MONEY.
IMAGINATION'S POWER.
SOME HEADLINES.
—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1930, By King Features

DODGE CITY, KANS., Jan. 30.—Through California, Arizona, New Mexico, southern Colorado, and now as far as Dodge City in Kansas, this fast Santa Fe train runs across the continent in a matter-of-fact way. For conductors and porters it is as much a matter of course as a New York trip from the Battery to Harlem for a subway guard.

If you can afford it you should make this trip. If not, you should make it as it is made by the family waving six or eight arms from a small automobile on the highway beside the railroad track. The trip in that car with five passengers, plenty of luggage on both sides and in the back, costs for gas and oil less than $50. No excuse for not seeing the whole of this country.

Secretary Mellon tells the soldiers that it would take $3,400,000,000 to pay their cash bonus and this would raise taxes in general and "upset the nation, retarding instead of helping prosperity."

Secretary Mellon is probably the country's greatest financial expert. What he says commands respect. But soldiers who want their money in cash, that they may spend it as they choose, feel that if prosperity came when the nations poured out billions for airships that wouldn't fly, surface ships that never left the dock, prosperity also might be established on a small scale by soldiers spending their few billions.

To control men, appeal to their imagination. Napoleon knew it, dressed in magnificent robes of ermine and velvet, he took the imperial crown from the hands of the pope and placed it on his own head at his coronation.

Mayor Thompson of Chicago knows it, as proved by his plans for the approaching campaign.

The Albuquerque Journal tells you that from Thompson, Arch Hurley has sent to Chicago's mayor two donkeys and a magnificent horse.

In his election parade Mayor Thompson will ride the fine horse, dressed as a cowboy, big hat, high heels and all. The two donkeys will follow behind carrying dummies representing Thompson's competitors in the campaign.

The dummies will have to think of something ingenious to offset that blow.

"$90,000 Fare Trap In Loop."
"Gang Tricks Rich Victim With Society Woman Lure."
"Florist Is Found Shot to Death In West Side Mystery."
"$300,000 Run Hunted."
"Reward Spurs Hunt For Store Killers."
"Rush Police Killer From Berwyn Jail As Mob Organizes."

For the Chicago newspaper and other important newspapers, Calvin Coolidge has written his opinion that old age pensions are not advisable. Says he: "What a self-respect."

MULLINS PLANT CHIEF OBSERVES 75TH BIRTHDAY

W. H. Mullins Looks Back Over Life Of Varied Achievements

"CITY HAS BEEN KIND," HE SAYS

Treasures Birthday Letter
From Foremen's Club
At Factory

Industrial leader, philanthropist, community builder and an outstanding citizen, W. H. Mullins who approximately 50 years ago established the business that now is known as the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, today looked back over a life of achievement in varied lines as he quietly observed his 75th birthday at his home, South Lincoln avenue.

A spring-like sun this morning sparkled brightly on snow crusted tree limbs lining, campus like, the broad street in front of the Mullins home and stole cheerfully through the big windows from which Mr. Mullins looked at the outside world.

Unwilling to comment on his own achievements and benefactions, he nevertheless had ample praise for his associates and the workers at his plant. "This," he said, revealing a letter, "has touched my heart."

From the Foremen's club of the Mullins plant, and written in observance of Mr. Mullins' birthday, it read:

"We cannot let you pass the 75th milestone on your magnificent journey through life without a full

THREE SLAYERS TO DIE TONIGHT

Robbers Convicted in Death of Colorado Deputy Sheriff Await Trip to Gallows

(By Associated Press)
CANYON CITY, COLO., Jan. 30.—Three men convicted of slaying Carol A. Hickman, Eads, Colo., deputy sheriff in their flight last March after robbing a Manter, Kas. bank of $4,000 were to be hanged here tonight.

The condemned robbers, John Walker, 45, Claude Ray, 24, and Andrew Halliday, 22, are to go to the gallows between 9 and 10 p. m. Walker was visited yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Julia Rhodes, 71, of Hopkin, Mo., whom he failed to deceive with the assertion he had escaped with a 20-year sentence. The prisoner had written letters to her for twenty years in advance and requested that one be mailed each month from the prison.

PARTNERSHIP IN 1882 LAUNCHED MULLINS PLANT

Corporation Is Nearing Half Century Mark
In Progress

W. H. Mullins, industrial and community developer, who today observed his 75th birthday anniversary, laid the foundation for the present corporation in 1882 when he formed a partnership with T. H. Bakswell for the manufacture of sheet metal products.

Prior to coming to Salem, Mr. Mullins worked in the purchasing department of the Pennsylvania railroad in Pittsburgh, with an uncle, William Mullins.

The Mullins-Bakswell partnership thrived and in 1890 Mr. Mullins purchased his partner's interest. He continued the business for several years when he formed the W. H. Mullins company, taking in a number of his key men as stockholders.

In 1918 he formed the Mullins Body company with a capital of 10,000 shares of preferred stock and 100,000 shares of common stock. Nine years later the preferred stock was retired and the Mullins Manufacturing corporation was formed, $30,000 worth of new preferred stock being issued.

This stock of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation was traded in on the New York and Boston stock exchanges.

Chairman of Board

For the last six or seven years, Mr. Mullins has not been actively engaged in the management of the corporation.

Importance Of Party Responsibility Stressed
In Addresses

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
CANTON, O., Jan. 30.—James T. Begg of Cleveland and Gilbert Bettman, attorney general, in addresses delivered here last night at the annual McKinley day banquet, stressed the importance of party responsibility as a cure for many political and economic problems now vexing the nation.

Comment On Future

The attorney general announced publicly that he is not a potential candidate for any office except the one he now occupies, and Begg, a former member of congress, and unsuccessful candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1928, and now mentioned as a probable candidate in 1932, refrained from commenting seriously on the subject.

Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan of Steubenville, former national committeewoman from Ohio, spoke briefly on the political outlook for 1931. More than 500 Republican men and women from all parts of Stark county attended the dinner.

The Republican party is in need of leaders with courage enough to carry out the sound principles of government advocated and believed in by William McKinley, the speakers declared.

Both Begg and Attorney General Bettman attacked the present primary system of nominating candidates, and suggested that the primary law should be amended to make possible the selection of candidates by convention.

MAN INJURED IN FALL AT PLANT

North Jackson Resident Sustains Fracture Of Skull At Mullins

Falling 14 feet to a concrete floor at the Mullins Manufacturing corporation plant Thursday night, William Yost, 52, of North Jackson, sustained a fractured skull and is in a critical condition at the City hospital here today.

Yost fell from a temporary scaffold built for the erection of new sand blasting equipment now being installed at the plant. He fell head first through a hole in the scaffold, striking his head on a steel beam.

The man was helping in structural steel work at the plant and had assisted in moving a motor from the first floor to the scaffold. A board was taken from the scaffold to lift the motor through plant officials said this morning. Yost fell through the hole to the floor.

Fellow-employees, working overtime with Yost in order to complete installation of the new equipment, rushed to his aid. The O. G. Stark ambulance was called. The injured man was treated by Dr. L. F. Jurel.

Defective Flue Cause

The home of J. W. Bair, located northeast of Long's crossing, on the Salem-Lisbon road, was destroyed by fire about 5:30 a. m. today.

A defective flue is thought to have caused the blaze.

The fire started in the wall between the kitchen and living room. There was no telephone in the home and by the time neighbors were notified and arrived at the fire the house was enveloped in flames with no chance of saving it.

Practically all the furniture in the house was destroyed.

THREE YOUTHS CALM AS DEATH IN CHAIR NEARS

Scheduled To Die Tonight For Slaying Of Galion Man

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—Three young men waited calmly in Ohio penitentiary's death row today as the state prepared to take their lives in the electric chair tonight.

They are Earl Sites, 27, Fred Massa, 27, and Kenneth McCartney, 25, all of Mansfield.

Attacked Woman

Before they were convicted of first degree murder, the men were sentenced to 20-year terms in the penitentiary for attacking a woman in Richland county. The attack occurred shortly after the holdup. Crawford county officials identified the prisoners and they were returned to Bucyrus where they were given separate trials on the murder charge.

Sites and McCartney said Massa fired the shot that killed Wilcox. Counsel for the trio carried the case to the Ohio supreme court, claiming among other things that the trial juries were prejudiced. The high tribunal declined to review the convictions and relatives turned to the state clemency board in a final effort to stay execution of the death penalty.

Will Decide Today

The board heard the appeals Wednesday and announced it would submit its decision to Governor White today. McCartney's mother appeared personally before the board, asserting her son left home early in life and was not a killer. Written evidence was presented in behalf of Sites and Massa. The latter's mother wrote that she had no money to help her son.

Duce Is Satisfied With Apology

(By Associated Press)
ROME, Jan. 30.—The annoyance of Premier Mussolini at remarks of Major General Smedley D. Butler describing him as a hit and run driver and of a war-like nature was said in official circles today to have been assuaged by an official apology from the American government.

The Duce was represented as considering now that General Butler's views were those of only one American general and not of the American people. His attitude has calmed somewhat, a rising tide of popular indignation and appears to have closed what might have been an unpleasant incident.

CAPITAL REPORT ASSERTS BUTLER WILL QUIT POST

Lyceum Manager Says
Fiery General Plans
Lecture Tour

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Washington today wondered if General Smedley D. Butler's spectacular and dramatic career in the marine corps, capped by an official state department apology to the Italian government, had been ended by resignation.

Rumors to this effect crept persistently into the capital's discussions of Butler's present difficulties caused by a speech in which he made remarks considered derogatory to Premier Mussolini.

Meanwhile, the veteran campaigner, under technical arrest, was confined to the marine post at Quantico, awaiting a general court martial. Its date had not been set and until specific charges are filed, corps officials were reluctant to speculate on the possible penalty.

Lecture Contract Report

In Atlanta, S. Russell Bridges, southern manager of Lyceum bureau, insisted Butler had signed a lecture contract effective February 1, and, preparatory to going on tour, had submitted his resignation.

Secretary Adams said no resignation had yet reached his office. Butler himself could not be reached, but his aide, Lieutenant Lucian C. Whitaker said he was certain no resignation had been submitted.

Butler's speech, by no means the first to bring him into conflict with his superior officers, was made in Philadelphia, January 19. He was quoted as saying Mussolini had run over a child with his automobile and driven on. He gave an unnamed friend as his authority.

Makes Official Apology

The Italian embassy protested. The state department asked the Navy department for information and the latter asked Butler for an explanation. Yesterday, Secretary

3 HOMES INVADED IN SINGLE NIGHT

Denning, Brush, And Miller Dwellers Entered

Police today were organizing plans to combat the operations of petty robbers who within recent weeks have entered a number of Salem homes, small losses, chiefly cash, being reported in most instances.

Thieves entered four South Lincoln ave. residences within the past 48 hours, it was reported by Acting Police Chief Ralph Steffer today. Three homes, all located within one of the city's leading residential districts, were entered last night, only a small amount of loot being taken.

Homes entered are those of W. L. Denning, 687 South Lincoln; L. H. Brush, 663 South Lincoln; H. A. Greiner, 666 South Lincoln, and R. R. Miller, 575 South Lincoln.

Seek Cash, Belief

Each of the burglaries committed here within the last two days is believed by police to have been the result of thieves seeking only money. A small amount of money was taken at the Denning home, the burglary occurring about 9 p. m. while Mr. and Mrs. Denning were in a room downstairs. Hearing a noise on the second floor the family investigated but was unable to discover anyone, the burglar apparently having been frightened away after ransacking the room of Miss Susan Denning.

A thief, possibly the same one, police believe, was frightened away from the home of L. H. Brush shortly after 8:30 by Mrs. B. A. mother, Mrs. Thomas H. Stewart.

TEAR UP CRAFT IN LIQUOR HUNT; GET NO RESULTS

Zealous Coast Guards Ruin Vessel; Captain To Make Protest

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. — Capt. John Bendiksen of the schooner "Good Luck" will not go down to the sea again for any more coffee. The zeal of certain members of the coast guard who, in a search for non-existent liquor, bored holes in his ship's hull, knocked in her bulkheads and left her a total wreck after spoiling $800 worth of fish and holding the captain and crew incommunicado for 24 hours has deprived him, he said, of his means of livelihood.

Will File Protest

Capt. Bendiksen said he would file a formal protest with the collector of the port against the actions of the coast guards and customs men. And then, he said, he would retire from the sea. He is tired of raiders.

The schooner was returning through the narrows on Monday loaded with 16,000 pounds of fish, after a trip to the fishing grounds, when the coast guard patrol 213 stopped her. Guardsmen, commanded by Boatswain Carson, made a brief search. Finding no liquor, they removed the hatch covers, in spite of Capt. Bendiksen's protest that it would melt the ice and spoil the fish. Then they ordered him to proceed to the Staten Island base for a more thorough search.

Put Guards on Boat

The captain refused, saying he was headed for Fulton market, and had no liquor, only fish. The guardsmen capitulated, and allowed him to continue to the market, with two guards on board. There they sent a call to the customs enforcement division, and a dozen customs officers rushed to the pier.

The captain and his crew were held below decks until Tuesday night with only a dozen eggs and a loaf of bread to eat. During this time, Capt. Bendiksen alleged, the guardsmen and customs officers attacked the schooner with axes, crowbars and longshoremen's hooks. They bored holes in her deck, hull, and partitions. Tore up planks and ripped off doors. They knocked a hole through the section between the engine room and the icebox, so that the ice melted and most of the fish spoiled.

Finally, finding no liquor, the searchers told Capt. Bendiksen that he and his crew were free. The ship was ordered released.

At the customs enforcement bureau it was said the schooner had been on the "suspect list" for ten years.

Capt. Bendiksen paused in his work of nailing up a "for sale" sign to the mast of the vessel to say he believed the raid was the result of a tip given the officers by a sailor he discharged recently. He had fired the man, he added, for intoxication.

GRANTS REQUEST TO END SERVICE

Federal Judge Permits Abandonment Of Railway

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30. — The Cleveland and Northwestern railway operating 200 miles of lines in northern Ohio, will pass from existence by the end of next month.

Federal Judge Samuel H. West signed a court order permitting abandonment of service late yesterday, granting the request of C. J. Mayers, former vice president and present receiver for the company.

Employees Protest

Dropping of service had been protested by employees of the road, who claimed 250 men would be thrown out of work and 1,500 persons directly affected. Mayers, however, said the line had operated at a loss of $153,000 last year. A foreclosure suit for $2,000,000 bonds filed against the road by the Guardian Trust company of Cleveland, is pending.

Under the order, the Cleveland-Bucyrus division through Wooster and the part of the western division from Lorain to Wellington will cease operation. The Elyria city line, the western division between Cleveland and Lorain and the branch from Elyria to Lorain will operate until midnight, February 28. Freight service on these lines will end at midnight tomorrow.

Sold By Court Order

The order specified that no poles, trolley wires or any other property of the company may be sold except by court order. The power business of the road was sold in 1928 to the Reserve Power and Light company for more than $2,000,000, which was applied on the interurban's indebtedness. At a hearing in federal court here Wednesday, the employees' committee charged that the railway discriminated in favor of the power company.

Do Children Prove Annoying? Yes! In 2,124 Different Ways

Dr. Mandel Sherman, Director Of Child Research Center In Washington, Figures Up After Parents' Survey

(By Associated Press)

ATHENS, GA., Jan. 30.—There are 2,124 ways in which children annoy parents.

Dr. Mandel Sherman, director of the child research center, Washington, D. C., made that statement before the 24th annual farmers' week and marketing conference at the Georgia State College of Agriculture.

32 Parents Make Survey
Dr. Sherman said a survey was made by 32 parents, who were asked to keep account of the ways in which their children annoyed them. They carried small notebooks around with them and kept a record each day of the week.

The greatest number of annoyances, Dr. Sherman said, was caused by disobedience, but all sorts of conditions were put down as annoying. Some parents were annoyed because their children were too slow, others because they were too quick or alert. A few parents were annoyed because the children were not neat, while others were disturbed by their primping.

Mothers Are Factors
"The results," Dr. Sherman said, "showed that the attitudes of the parents, and their feelings of well-being affected greatly the kind and number of annoyances with their children."

Discussing "education of parenthood," he said the problem of personal welfare and of happiness can be solved by properly preparing the youth for life—and education for parenthood can do much in this respect.

Open New Field
This suggestion opens a new field of research into the mysteries of sun spots. The cycles of the sun behave like storms on the earth, appearing to originate in polar regions, and their movements in north and south hemispheres are similar to storms on the earth.

The poles of the sun might be either colder or warmer than its equator, he observed, warmer if the polar regions were flattened and the sun slightly oblate rather than round.

This new theory is not unlike other Einstein theories. Some 15 years ago after physicists and astronomers for 200 years had been in a wilderness of doubt because Sir Isaac Newton's law failed to explain the behavior of mercury, a simple pronouncement from Einstein led to the special theory of relativity.

Works Unified Field Theory
Then a few years ago when physicists were mystified by the complications of electro-magnetism, gravity, and light, Einstein suggested they might be all essentially the same and on that hypothesis worked out his unified field theory.

In addition to his suggestion the sun may have its warmer or cooler poles, he has left many other suggestions with the scientists, astronomers and mathematicians here that afford a program for years of experimental research.

In the company of Dr. Walter S. Adams and Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, astronomers, Einstein last night looked through the big Mt. Wilson telescope at the planetoid Eros, 16,000,000 miles from the earth. He also viewed Mars 40,000,000 miles distant, and saw the craters of the moon, 240,000,000 miles away. Then he donned evening clothes and went to see the premiere of Charles Chaplin's latest movie.

FIGHT TO FINISH ON RELIEF FUND CALLED IN HOUSE

Vote Scheduled To Follow Two Hours' Debate On Proposal

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Democratic leaders were mustered into a council of war today in their campaign to appropriate government funds for the relief of suffering in the drought area.

Meanwhile the house squared away for a finish fight on the proposal, already approved by the senate, that $25,000,000 be turned over to the Red Cross. An agreement providing two-hours debate followed by a vote was in effect.

Seek Some Other Agency
Following the refusal of the Red Cross to accept the fund, the Democratic chiefs were seeking to determine upon some other agency to handle the money. They suggested the Salvation Army, the Public Health Service and the American Legion.

The crucial question of an extra session, bringing into office the evenly divided seventy-third congress shortly after March 4, was involved in the Democratic meeting.

The $25,000,000 fund is attached to the interior department appropriation bill as an amendment. Should an unsettled controversy between the senate and the administration, which is determined against the proposal, kill the whole measure, a special session must be called or the interior department will be without funds for the next fiscal year.

Approve Amendment
Late yesterday the senate approved an amendment to the war department appropriation bill under which 20,000,000 bushels of wheat now held by the farm board would be given to any agency the president may designate for distribution to the needy.

The proposal was approved by a vote of 46 to 16 and presented the house with a new issue. Before the vote Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, severely criticized those in charge of relief work. He said their "present disposition" was "to do as little as possible and to delay doing anything as long as possible."

Chairman Payne of the Red Cross last night issued a statement denying that organization was playing politics in refusing to accept federal funds.

17 INJURED, 200 LOSE HOMES IN NEW YORK FIRE

Flames Level Six-Story Building In Upper Broadway

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Dancing flames leveled a six-story building on upper Broadway early today, driving more than 200 persons into the cold, injuring 17 others and throwing the great white way into a turmoil.

Two Firemen Burned

Of the injured, two firemen were seriously burned when the fourth floor collapsed, catapulting an entire hook and ladder company to the floor below. Two newspaper photographers were dangerously hurt, a block from the fire when flashlight powder prematurely exploded, mangle the left hand of one and possibly blinding the other.

Most of the tenants, occupying 180 apartments on the upper five floors scurried to safety via elevators, fire escapes and metal bridges, leading to adjoining buildings. Others were helped to safety by firemen and fellow lodgers.

Lincoln Square Building Scene
The scene was the Lincoln Square building, known also as the Miller building, which is located at the corner of 66th street and Broadway. It houses an arcade leading to Loew's Lincoln Square theater, in a separate structure, and shops on the ground floor. The structure is of wood and brick.

Starting on the third floor about midnight the fire spread rapidly in a steady wind. Some 400 firemen fought the flames from every conceivable vantage point. The theater building was not damaged and all its patrons had departed before the blaze began.

LEADS FUR COAT TO FAKE BARON

Now Aimee Semple McPherson Is Out $900, Says Story

(By United Press) LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, was defrauded of $900 by a fake Hungarian baron during her recent pilgrimage to the Holy Land, the Los Angeles Examiner said today.

Mrs. McPherson met the "baron" at Budapest, the newspaper declared. He was said to have told her that his funds from Switzerland had been delayed. She gave him a fur coat with which to obtain a loan, the paper said, but was unable to recover it before she sailed from Europe. A letter to Mrs. McPherson later told her that the coat was in pawn for $900, which sum, it was said, Mrs. McPherson paid.

The Examiner declared that W. Joseph Ford, the evangelist's attorney, has been investigating the "baron" and the transaction and a letter allegedly demanding $20,000 from her for "breach of contract." Ford refused to comment on the report and Mrs. McPherson was out of the city.

recognition not only of your achievements, but of the love and admiration that you have built up in the hearts of thousands whom you number as your friends.

"Among those of your old associates in business, the men into whose lives you have brought so much that was fine and good, the example that you have always set for them, high ideals in the performance of their duties, there is an especially warm feeling of friendship and esteem that cannot be altered because of infirmities which prevent your being with us daily.

"It is the wish of the Foremen's club of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation and all of your old friends and associates that this, your 75th birthday, may be one of the happiest you have ever experienced. We also wish to express the further hope that you may remain with us for many years as a constant reminder of the business you founded, built up and made to prosper for our benefit as well as that of the entire community."

In addition to his industrial activities, Mr. Mullins has been generous in his contributions to the welfare of the city. During the World war he was active in forming the military company recruited from Salem and vicinity and captained by Percy Tetlow.

When Liberty bonds were placed on sale, he took an active part in seeing that Salem did more than its share in disposing of the bonds.

After the war he contributed the Memorial building in East State street for the use of the public. He has always been prominent in hospital activities, contributing largely to its erection and support. He built a nurses' home, named in honor of his mother, Mrs. Hannah Mullins.

JURY DISAGREES IN MOORE CASE

Columbiana Man Indicted For Resisting Officer; Shot In Leg

LISBON, Jan. 30.—A jury that heard the case of Clyde Moore of Columbiana, indicted for resisting an officer, failed to agree, and was discharged by Judge W. F. Lones at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. This case went to trial last Monday afternoon.

Moore was shot in the left leg by Marshal E. L. Mitchell when he went to arrest Moore, and when Moore pointed an unloaded single barrel shot gun at Mitchell.

A jury drawn to determine the sanity of Norman Brasecker of Pittsburgh, Pa., indicted for stealing 38 chickens from William Fessler, found the defendant to be insane at the time of the commission of the crime. Physicians testified that the mentality of Brasecker "ran in waves."

ing people really needs is not a system of old age pensions but a population made sufficiently skilled by education and sufficiently self-controlled and well-disposed by help of religion, so that old age pensions would be a superfluous. Unless real reform comes from within the problem never will be solved.

Education some day may provide for old age. Meanwhile, what "self-respecting old people" want is something to eat and a place to sleep outside of the poor house.

They have plenty of religion, but can't eat it, unfortunately. After you have taken all the work out of an old horse, you should either knock him on the head or feed him.

After it has taken all the work out of old men and women, their country can't knock them on the head and therefore having had their work, it ought to feed them.

Good news for fruit and vegetable growers, Swift & Co., the great Chicago packers, will add to their activities the canning of vegetables and fruits, thus adding Swift & Co.'s wide distribution powers to the resources of the growers.

Production is solved; distribution is the problem. Government regulations, preventing the packers from going into any kind of business, or engaging in any kind of distribution, are harmful.

The best possible way to help the farmer is to encourage distribution, which means greater consumption and greater prosperity.

NEW FACTION IN CONSERVATIVES' RANKS IS SEEN

Looms As Probable Denouncement Of Indian Disagreement

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Birth of a new faction within the ranks of the Conservative party was seen today as the probable denouncement of disagreement on Indian policy between Stanley Baldwin and the outspoken Winston Churchill.

From correspondence between the two Conservative leaders just published it appears that Churchill while his "warm personal friendship" for Baldwin is undiminished, thinks it best that he abstain from meetings of the party's business committee—or war council—which is composed of the inner few and includes, chiefly, former cabinet ministers.

Baldwin, while equally warm in his personal remarks, accepts Churchill's view that he should cease attending the cabinet meetings.

Churchill is not alone in dissenting from the Baldwin Indian views. Lord Lloyd, former Egyptian high commissioner and always outspoken, starts tonight in Manchester on a barnstorming tour of denunciation of the Indian round table conference and its works.

"A new faction, if it is born," the Liberal News Chronicle said today, "need not confine itself to a policy of treating India rough, what about free trade? Mr. Churchill's real views on this subject are well known and they are certainly not those of Mr. Stanley Baldwin."

ture, the attorney general charged the governor with "passing the buck" to the people on four issues, namely, welfare program, old age pensions, drivers' licenses and state police. The governor, in his message, suggested that these issues be submitted to the people for referendum. Bettman said he also advocated a four-year term for all state officials.

On the question of prohibition, Bettman declared that the problem never will be solved "until the Republican party takes the leadership and shows the people the way out."

Both speakers sharply criticized the so-called Independents in politics who forget party allegiance immediately after they are nominated and elected.

New Blast Puzzles Youngstown Police

(By Associated Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 30.—With one suspect under arrest for a $15,000 bombing in Lowellville, an adjoining village, Youngstown authorities today were confronted with a mysterious explosion which caused $10,000 damage to a vacant store building here this morning.

The Lowellville suspect, arrested last night, was held in county jail today under a suspicion charge.

This morning's explosion blew the roof off a building owned by Joe Ignoczki. Fire followed the blast which virtually destroyed the structure.

Rather than stand trial on a first degree charge, Mrs. Wickham accepted an opportunity to plead guilty to a charge of second degree murder yesterday. Judge C. O. Dye accepted the woman's plea and sentenced her to a life term in the reformatory.

Mrs. Stewart was in a room by herself. Previously, Mrs. Brush had been looking for a pair of glasses. Hearing a noise, Mrs. Stewart turned to ask if Mrs. Brush had not yet located the glasses. In the darkened room, the robber flashed a light in Mrs. Stewart's face and disappeared. Mrs. Stewart was unperturbed by the incident.

Tall, Wore Overcoat The man, described as tall and wearing an overcoat, is presumed to have entered through a window.

The Greiner home was entered by prying open a window after the burglar climbed to the roof of a side porch. A watch was taken but was found on the steps of the rear porch this morning. Nothing else was reported missing, according to police.

Six dollars in cash and a pen and pencil case were stolen from the R. R. Miller residence which was ransacked Wednesday night. The home was entered between 7:45 and 10:30, members of the family believe.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY INDICTS FOUR IN WEST

Using Mails To Defraud Is Charge Against Quartet

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 30.—A pamphlet, "Why Investors Lose Oil," has led to the indictment of an ex-governor, a former New York police commissioner, an editor and a stock promoter on charges of using the mails to defraud.

J. C. "Jack" Walton, impeached as chief executive of Oklahoma; Richard E. Enright, ex-commissioner of police; Henry Knight Miller, editor of "Psychology"; and S. E. J. Cox, of Oklahoma City, were among 19 persons formally accused by a federal grand jury here.

Operate In "Oil And Gas"
They face charges in the operations of the defunct Universal Oil and Gas company.

Roy St. Lewis, district attorney, asserted the pamphlet written by Walton, assisted in building up confidence through which the public was defrauded of $750,000. Walton, now a candidate for mayor of Oklahoma City, was the first chairman of the reorganization board, the district attorney said.

Cox, recently acquitted of mail fraud charges in Texas after serving a previous term with Dr. Frederick A. Cook, arctic explorer and oil promoter, was said to have been the unofficial head.

Free On Bond
Cox and eight others have been free on bond for months. Walton, Enright and Miller have not been arrested.

Enright previously had been questioned in connection with a letter published over his signature by the company. The letter, purporting to be the report of an investigation, said the company was "one of the most profitable in America."

Lewis said at that time the company was paying out 93 cents of every dollar to salaries and promotion.

Miller was to have been paid five per cent of brokers' commissions for advertising in his magazine, Lewis said.

Man Dies Of Burns In Fire At Toledo

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 30.—One man was burned fatally, another was injured and a third man and four women were driven out when fire swept the lower floor of a duplex here early today.

Stewart Blackwell, 31, died from burns received when he ran through the blazing living room on the first floor and dived through a window to the street.

William Arnold, 21, suffered an ankle injury when he jumped through a window.

Illness Fatal To Ralph Lattimore

AKRON, Jan. 30.—Ralph J. Lattimore, 47, considered one of the headiest players among baseball's veterans, died at St. Thomas hospital last night, following an operation for appendicitis which hastened an attack of pneumonia.

Lattimore was born in Marion, O. He started his professional diamond career at East Liverpool in 1899, playing second base for that club in the Ohio and Pennsylvania league.

Following that he went to Columbus in the American association. He played second base and acted as captain of the Senator nine.

His next move found him once again in a manager's position with Topeka in the Western league. He remained there two seasons. He graduated into the majors, playing second base for Cleveland in the Federal league.

Mullins Corporation Near Half Century Mark In Progress

corporation although he is a director and chairman of the board.

This corporation, of which he has been the guiding spirit, has been engaged many years in the manufacture of sheet metal boats and sheet metal stampings for automobiles.

However, it is understood that within the last year or two, the corporation has developed a number of new lines such as radiator enclosures, evaporators for electric refrigerators, and tubs and wringers for electric washing machines.

In addition, it is now experimenting for the International Nickel company for the manufacture of kitchen sinks and other similar furnishings from Monel metal.

Company representatives feel that this is going to be one of the organization's largest lines, sometime in the future. Workmen are now finishing up the first of the sinks and production, probably, will begin within the next few months.

Broke Into Auto Field
The high cost and shortage of lumber, at one time used in the manufacture of automobiles, brought the Mullins company into auto body work. Company officials tell today how the Pope-Toledo manufacturers, encountering difficulty in getting lumber large enough to make the backs of automobiles, because of supply shortage and extreme high costs, prevailed upon the Mullins company to aid them in their dilemma.

The Salem company then went into the production of automobile bodies from metal. Their boat business has covered a period of approximately 30 years.

Stimson named Ambassador De Martino an official apology which was cabled at one time to Rome.

Almost simultaneously, Secretary Adams cited Butler for a general court martial. The task of preparing specifications and charges was given to Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, judge advocate general of the navy. These must first be approved by Secretary Adams and then will be served upon Butler.

Will Prepare Defense
Then, Adams will appoint an officer of the navy's legal branch to act as prosecutor and from five to thirteen to serve as the court. Butler will be given time to prepare his defense.

Recalling the trial of Colonel William Mitchell, frequently mentioned in connection with the Butler case, Washington is looking forward to a spectacular battle when the court martial begins. Mitchell and Butler are associated in Washington memories as daring, unorthodox and colorful.

What the official charge against Butler will be was the subject of much speculation. The regulations make no mention of remarks about officials of another government. Those familiar with military procedure were of the opinion he would be accused of "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman."

Denies Deal Rumor

FOUR WILL BE ARRAIGNED IN LORAIN MURDER

First Degree Charge To Be Made In Slaying Of Salesman

(By Associated Press)
LORAIN, Jan. 30.—Police Prosecutor Albert Gruelich said four men would be arraigned on first degree murder charges today for the beating to death of Norman J. Watte, 60, whose career brought him from a member of the Chicago board of trade to a novelty salesman in Lorain.

Gruelich announced he had obtained signed confessions from Edward J. Nolan, Jr., 28, and Spencer Stevens, 23, both sailors; Arthur Wallace, 30, proprietor of a magic shop, and Jack Rice, 30, a painter and magician.

Money Provided Motive
The quartet plotted the slaying of Watte in the belief that he carried a large amount of money, according to the prosecutor. Watte, although poorly dressed and accustomed to sleep in Wallace's shop, had been seen to produce $50 bills in paying for his meals.

The salesman was beaten to death in Wallace's shop late Wednesday. Wallace and Rice said he was the victim of holdup men who fled through the back door, but detectives became suspicious when they were unable to find any tracks in the mud in the rear. Wallace and Rice were held for questioning and the arrests of the two sailors followed early yesterday.

Killing Is Plotted
Gruelich said Nolan told him he and Stevens noticed Watte sleeping on the floor of Wallace's shop three night ago. They walked with Wallace and Rice the next day and the four then were alleged to have plotted the killing.

Watte was a graduate of the University of Chicago and was a member of the Chicago board of trade in 1893, according to R. A. Vandander, of Chicago, his brother-in-law. Von Dander said Watte had lived in Cleveland for the last five years, going to Lorain a few months ago.

STUDENTS JUDGE TEACHING STAFF AT OHIO STATE

Seniors Asked To Pass Opinions On Faculty In Examination

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—Seniors at Ohio State university will be asked during the spring quarter to pass judgment on the teaching ability of members of the faculty in whose classes they have been. Their replies will be used by the university in helping to determine the value of individual members of the teaching staff.

Final approval of this student grading of faculty members has been given by President George W. Rightmire upon recommendation of the Student Senate faculty grading committee.

The seniors will be asked in questionnaires to give their personal estimate of members of the teaching staff on such matters as interest in subject, sympathetic attitude towards students, fairness in grading, liberal and progressive attitude, presentation of subject matter, sense of proportion and humor, self-reliance and confidence, personal peculiarities, personal appearance, and stimulating intellectual curiosity.

The questionnaire results will furnish President Rightmire with the student viewpoint on faculty members. The grading system is one of the many projects included in Dr. Rightmire's new personnel program in which he aims to form closer contacts with the students.

If the plan proves feasible and the results valuable, it may be extended later to a rating of all members of the instructional staff by asking freshmen, sophomores, and juniors to pass similar judgment.

Search Is Extended In War On Auto Ring
(By International News Service)

AKRON, O., Jan. 30.—With the discovery in Wheeling, W. Va., of five more automobiles allegedly stolen by a nation-wide auto theft ring, search for its members had spread to Steubenville today as Akron detective and federal agents from Pittsburgh attempted to unravel further details of the ring's operations.

The alleged ring was exposed when Akron police arrested a man after he attempted to sell two automobiles to Akron used car dealers. Both cars were said to have been stolen.

Government agents took a hand in the case when Akron officials allegedly uncovered information that the gang, which is believed to have its headquarters here, was dealing in interstate transportation and sale of stolen machines.

A cold does 3 things "Pape's" stops them all

A cold always affects you in at least three ways. Air passages are inflamed and irritated. Perspiration is checked. Bowels are clogged with acid wastes from the mucous discharge. So doctors say you must do three things to be rid of a cold.

Pape's Cold Compound does all three! It reduces inflammation and swelling of the mucous membrane; it induces perspiration; opens the bowels. Chew one of these pleasant tablets and see how quickly nasal discharge stops; head clears; breathing becomes easy. See how that aches, feverish, weak feeling disappears. And "Pape's" doesn't stop with killing cold germs. It activates bowels and removes germs and acid wastes from the system. All drug stores—35c. Just remember "Pape's." Adv

LIQUOR HAULS WORTH $142,000

Ten-Year Rum Seizures By Coast Guard Hit High Figure

(By Associated Press)

MARBLEHEAD, O., Jan. 30.—The modern Odyssey of Lake Erie contains a little verse dedicated alone to the Coast Guard.

"Night and day they go their way, 'Chasing Bacchus every day.' The members of this branch of the service, in its status as a dry agency but little over a decade old, puff their pipes these wintry nights, and discuss the most stirring of their adventures in the business of harassing rum runners between Canada and the United States. In the past ten years it has been estimated unofficially they have captured cargoes of liquor valued at $142,000. One of the favorite sports of the coast guardsmen here is that of estimating just what they would do if they individually possessed this small fortune.

Worth Half Million
This same amount of liquor, according to Deputy Collector of Customs Roy M. Downing, if sold at bootleg prices, would be almost at the half million dollar mark.

Life in the winter for these enforcement agents means day after day of monotony, lookout duty, yarn swapping and repairing boats.

Sometimes they are called on a mission of mercy when youngsters, skating, have broken through the ice, or when ice boats, now popular agents of sport in this vicinity, have run into difficulty.

They stir from their inactivity, like firemen when a ten blow alarm sounds.

Part of the Game
Helter skelter they pile into their boats.

The craft plows through the fices. The sturdy crew drags it over the solid surfaces. Sometimes there is a cracking sound—a splash. The coast guardsmen come up dripping wet. But they laugh. It is all a part of the green and white game they must play with Jack Frost!

COLLEGE YOUTHS FACE RUM COUNT

Ann Arbor Trio Accused By Police Of Being Campus Bootleggers, On Way Through Courts

(By Associated Press)

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Jan. 30.—Three youths accused by police of being campus bootleggers, were on their way through the courts today.

Orie Brown, 24-year-old freshman law student at University of Michigan, of Spencer, Iowa, who is accused of heading the liquor ring, pleaded not guilty.

His examination was set for February 6, on a charge of possessing liquor for sale and he was returned to Washtnaw county jail in default of $5,000 bond.

Robert Custer, 22, senior in the school of education, and his room mate, Allan Thompson, 21, not a student, waived examination and were bound over to circuit court on charges of possessing liquor. Both are from Marion, Ind., unable to furnish bond, they were returned to jail.

Custer has not given up hope of continuing in school. He is studying in jail, expecting to take his semester examination next week.

SANDISFIELD, Mass.—New England's maple sugar season does not open officially until March, but the first of the 1931 crop already has been harvested here. H. J. Mallory tapped a few maples and gathered enough sap to make several gallons of maple syrup.

FAIRBAULT, Minn.—A prize announced as "corn in its most concentrated form" brought a large crowd to the advertising men's party here. The toastmaster presented E. J. Kiekenapp of this city with a white pig as the concentrated corn.

Flashes of Life

(By Associated Press)

RALEIGH, N. C.—In jail for life because he called on a girl against her father's wishes, Felix Wright has been freed by Gov. Gardner after seven years' confinement. The parole papers say that after Wright had once been arrested for trespass in visiting the girl, she wrote him to call. He entered her house secretly at night and the father had him prosecuted as a burglar.

NEW YORK—There are awful hazards on some links in Africa. Miss Ruth Hardy, Brooklyn school teacher, back from Uganda, is telling her friends that she drove a trap and her ball hit a sleeping hippopotamus. She had to run to the clubhouse.

LONDON—A hotel in Kensington has ordered its waiters to grow side whiskers. It desires that servants be easily distinguishable from guests.

NEW YORK—Miss Barbara Barner, member of the Junior

Red And Black Varsity Seeks Eighth Straight Victory Tonight

THE DAY In Sports

CRUCIAL GAME TONIGHT

Palestine To Oppose Salem High Varsity; Girls, Reserves Play

Class A league activities for the second half of the current season get under way next Tuesday with two games played between the league's four entries. The complete schedule is now being arranged and will be announced soon and fans are eagerly awaiting the start of the half, anticipating the dethronement of the championship Golden Eagle team by one of its three opponents.

The McArthur Florists and Grove Electric are the main threats to the champions and there is a slight possibility that one or the other of this pair will triumph in the second round. If so, interest, now exceedingly high, will amount still greater and a play-off for the city title will be necessary next March.

The Class B circuit also exact much enthusiasm from fans, contests for titular honors in each league being hotter than ever before in the city's history.

Confident of victory, Salem High varsity toppers invade East Palestine tonight. The Brown and White though, will be no easy opponent for the Quakers and a hard fought encounter is anticipated. The game means everything as far as the county title contest is concerned to both schools and still more to each, for they have been rivals for ages and Salem hopes to maintain its athletic supremacy in the county with a decisive victory.

Embattled in a fight for their fifth consecutive Columbiana county basketball championship, Salem High varsity basketballers invade the home gymnasium of East Palestine High school tonight, involved in their fourth important county cage fracas of the current season. The game will be the main game of three contests scheduled tonight, junior varsity and girls teams of the two schools clashing in preliminary tilts.

By the slimmest of margins, hardly of sufficient importance to mention, the Red and Black terrors reign favorites over the opposing Brown and White quintet. The contest is one of three county battles still remaining on the Quakers' cage schedule and a victory tonight will practically assure Coach Floyd Stone's lads of titular honors for the 1930-31 campaign.

A close-forming defense, one that has held seven opponents to an average of 16 points to a contest, is expected to form Palestine's biggest bid for a victory over the Stonemen who for years have rung up victory after victory over the opposing county aggregation. The game

Star Leaves School
OXFORD, O., Jan. 30.—Basketball prospects at Miami university have sunk a little lower with the announcement of Harold North, star center and football player for three years, that he would not return for the second semester.

takes the form of a crucial contest between two traditional athletic rivals, the two schools having clashed in all lines of sporting competition for more than 20 years.

Without beating around the well known bush, East Palestine must be accredited with a great opportunity over Salem varsity. The team which last year held Salem to a 24-22 decision in a game played in this city, has gained considerable prestige in Northeastern Ohio as a result of six consecutive victories, one over Campbell Memorial and the other over Brookfield's gallant little machine, and fandom in the Brown and White school is confident of their team's ability to annex a decision over the Quakers.

Salem High will be seeking its eighth straight victory, having chalked up its seventh straight last week in defeating Dover, 48-24.

Palestine No Weakling
Salem's offensive formation will be given a severe test when it attempts to feel its way through the Palestine defense and a great contest between two entirely different styles of play is anticipated. Combined with its powerful defense, found almost impenetrable by several teams, Palestine has an offensive formation that has brought victory over Damascus, Campbell, Struthers, Columbiana, an Alumni team, and Brookfield. The defeat sustained from Boardman last Saturday is far from an indication of a weakness in the Brown and White's ability for Boardman rates well up among Class B leaders of the district.

To those fans still addicted for a liking to abide by dope as obtained by a comparison of scores it might be indicated that if there is any favorite to be found from tonight's varsity battle, it would be Palestine.

This decision would be reached by tracing down the fact that Akron North trimmed Alliance; Alliance beat Salem; Campbell Memorial walloped North High, and then to emphasize the solemn news, Palestine trimmed Massillon 19-16. Then again, Salem found difficulty in winning over Lisbon, Columbiana, however, Lisbon, Columbiana, and then Palestine won over Columbiana, 13-11 by nothing other than its superior defensive play.

No Change In Lineup
Palestine will use its strongest defensive formation with Wertz, Smith and Orsine as its main threats. No change looms in the Quaker starting lineup, it being all most assured that Smith and Beck will get the bid for forward posts; Early at center, and French and Sartick at guards.

Salem's biggest asset comes in the fact that the team is well balanced defensively and offensively. To date the team has flashed no outstanding stars in majority of games and any team that earns seven straight victories over such Bartlett, Warren, Niles and Lisbon Youngstown East, Niles and Lisbon DeGarmo, Niles, and others by 3-1 margins, must be flouted as an aggregation that will be hard to stop on any court.

The Quakers have a team which plays best under fire. As in football the lads flash their best basketball when opposed by highly rated opponents, and so when Palestine's high-powered varsity is faced, the Stonemen rate as favorites.

East Palestine's reserves do not appear capable of halting the Quaker junior varsity quintet and the latter is expected to pull in its 11th straight win tonight. The Salem girls too rule as favorites, Palestine having lost four consecutive games.

Military Academy Plans Grid Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Charges that West Point authorities have permitted proselytizing of football players are to be investigated by the military academy.

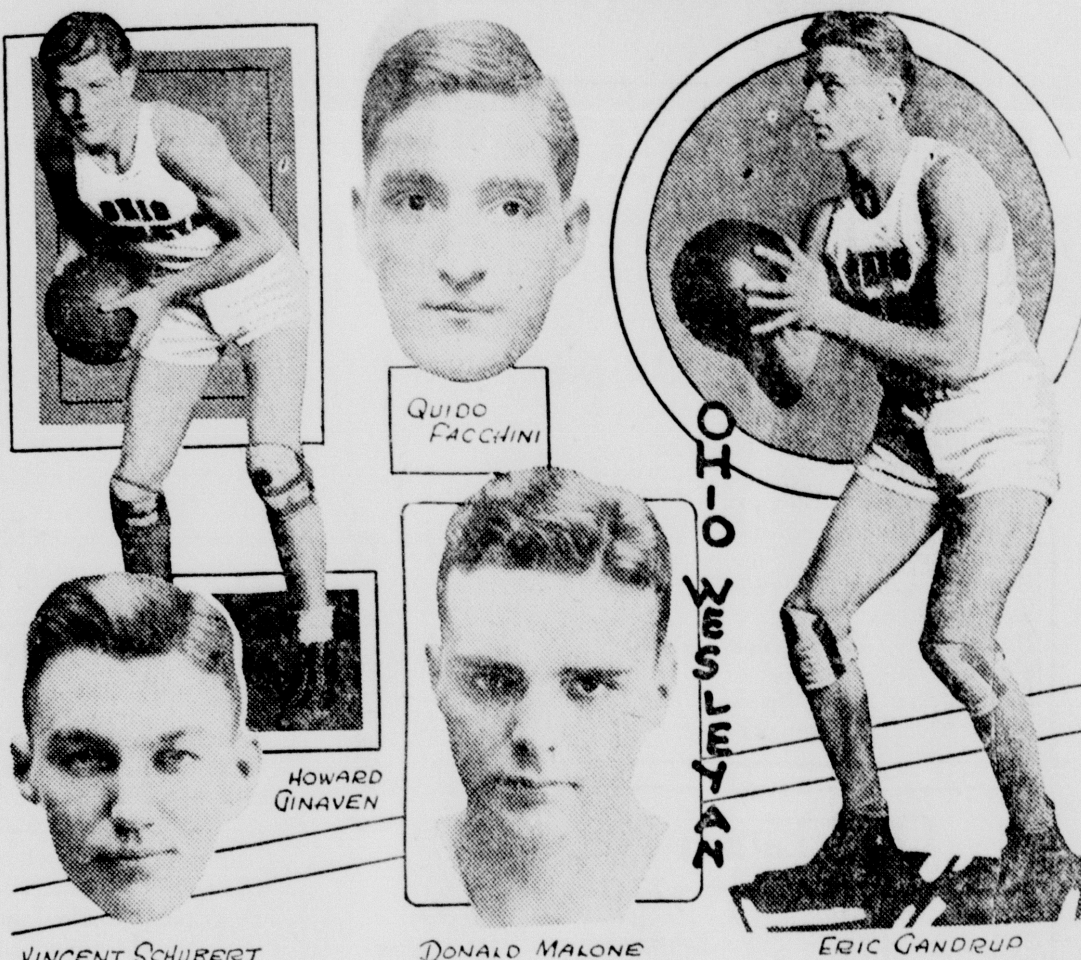

Such an inquiry was demanded by Representative Fish, Republican, New York, late yesterday. General Douglas MacArthur, the chief of staff, said the charges would be forwarded to the academy for investigation. Specifically, Fish asked an investigation of the activities of W. T. Wrightson, a member of the Army Athletic association, and of Paul Carroll, a cadet, in connection with alleged efforts to induce Kenneth Goff, star Rhode Island state football player to enter the academy.

HEAD WESLEYAN CAMPAIGN

Here are the five veteran players of the Ohio Wesleyan basketball team which is setting the pace in the Buckeye conference. The Bishops are undefeated in the conference title race and have completed half their Buckeye schedule.

They have defeated each of the other member schools, Ohio, Miami, Denison, and Cincinnati. Eric Gandrup, Rocky River, forward, is probably the most feared player in the conference. Howard Ginaven, Springfield, has been shifted from guard to forward this season with excellent results. A third junior letterman is Vincent Schubert, Sandusky, who is playing at center and forward. Quido Facchini, Alliance, a senior, is the most experienced player on the Bishop squad. He is a guard. Donald Malone, Cleveland, another senior, is being used either as a guard or a forward.

Sam Bredon Not Anxious To Trade

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—Sam Bredon is so well satisfied with his Cardinals and their chances to retain the National league championship they won last year that he believes he can attend a meeting of the league's magnates without even slightly suggesting a trade to anyone.

"But," he qualified "if somebody wants to do a little trading that will benefit the Cardinals, I'll get interested."

Harper Holds Lead in Billiard Clash

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Robert Harper of Denver, the defending titleholder, held a 16-point lead over Dr. Andrew Harris of Chicago as their battle for the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship extended into the second of three 50-point blocks.

The champion opened defense of his title yesterday by winning the first block, 50 to 34, in 61 innings.

Three Teams Tied For First In Class B Loop; Cadets Lose

The Bloomberg Clothiers handed the Emmanuel Lutheran church Cadets their second consecutive defeat Thursday night, throwing the titular race in the National league of city Class B competition into a three-way tie between the Clothiers, the Cadets and "Question Marks."

Winners Rally
The Bloomberg team took the long end of a 14-13 decision in a closely guarded contest last night, staging a great comeback to win out. The Cadets held a 6-2 lead at the end of the first quarter and were ahead, 11-2 at the half-way mark.

Each of three teams tied for first place have won five out of seven games.

There was no change in American league standings, only one game being played. This involved Schafer's Green Room team against the Salem Business College in a last-place fight, the Green Room winning, 30-15 behind great offensive work of Charlie Quinn.

Question Marks Win
The Question Marks advanced into the tie for the lead with a 36-13 victory over the Baptist church team. The winners grabbed the lead at the start and won easily to send the churchmen down to fourth place in league standings. Summaries follow:

Canadiens Conquer New York Americans

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Montreal Canadiens, who beat the Boston Bruins in the final playoff for the Stanley cup last season, seem to be trying this season to show again that they have the better hockey team.

After the New York Americans defeated Boston last night, the flying Frenchmen stepped out and gave the Americans a severe trouncing. Tuesday, Philadelphia held the Bruins to a tie and last night the Canadiens romped through the Quaker defense for a 7 to 1 victory.

The Bruins, despite the illness of Lionel Hitchman, defense star, beat the New York Rangers. They came from behind to take a hard fought game, 4 to 3. Since the last Ranger victory in 1928, the Bruins have gone through 17 games without losing to the New Yorkers.

Like Boston, the Toronto Maple Leafs had to come from behind in the third period to beat Ottawa 3 to 2 in a game which again gave Toronto undisputed possession of second place in the Canadian division.

OTTAWA, ONT., Jan. 30.—An offer of $100,000 for the Ottawa Senators Hockey club, the price at which the present owners of the National league team have said they would sell if the purchasers agree to keep the team here, was made last night while the Senators were losing a game to Toronto.

The offer was made by Harold Code, Ottawa lawyer, in behalf of a group of local men.

TAXPAYERS WIN IN RATE TANGLE

Bettman Rules Miami U. Land Not Subject To Assessment

(By Associated Press)
OXFORD, Jan. 29.—Taxpayers of Oxford and Oxford township, are pleased to learn that Attorney General Gilbert Bettman has ruled in their favor in a tax tangle, recently submitted to him for a decision. In his opinion, he held that Miami University, or specifically, the lands owned by Miami University, under the act establishing the institution in 1809, are not subject to the tax of 2.55 mills for school purposes and that the tax cannot be levied against the lands of the land.

This tax has been paid for fifty years and farmers, hard hit by the depression and its twin horror, the drought, are entertaining visions of a vast refund by the state. Various petitions have been advanced but it seems certain, to the village that a set case will be held to decide upon the legality of Bettman's opinion, which came as the climax of months of work on the part of Mrs. Mary Hughes, of this hamlet, who presented the case to the attorney general early this month.

She organized a League of College Land Owners, and as its secretary she led a committee to Columbus where the results of months of investigation were placed before Bettman.

As a result, a number of amusing questions are being asked by the village folk. It is claimed that since Ohio was given Oxford Township in trust only, it is still owned by the federal government, and is a sort of western District of Columbia, where citizens, legitimately, might be denied the right to vote.

Office Romances on the Increase And Are Eminently Successful

Following the Oratory of the Noted Educator of the Northwestern University, Femmes of the Business World Walk on Winged Heels Keeping a Watchful Eye on the Boss Whom They One Day May Wed.

BISHOP and Mrs. JAMES CANNON, JR.

Mrs. CARL G. FISHER

Mrs. MORGAN F. LARSON

DIANA ELLIS

Mrs. BOB LAFOLLETTE

Mrs. E. M. STATLER

NEW YORK—When Dr. Edward Lyman Cornell issued his now famous exhortation, "Marry your secretary," to the student body of Northwestern University, he imagined, as did most of the listeners, that he was expounding a new idea. He wasn't.

Marriages between secretaries and their bosses have been taking place for a long, long time and there's this to say for Dr. Cornell's theory—they turn out in most cases eminently successful.

For instance, Miss Ada Schmidt landed here from Denmark a short five years ago. For three years she worked as secretary and companion to the aged mother of Governor Morgan F. Larson, of New Jersey.

Then, to the surprise of his family and friends, Governor Larson and Miss Schmidt went and got married. And happily married at that.

Old "Fighting Bob" LaFollette was another luminary in the political sky who married the lady whose duty it was to record his words in black and white. After their marriage they continued to run the household and office together an everything worked out splendidly. Senator "Fighting Bob's" son, Bob, Jr., who took hold of the reins on his father's death, also married his secretary. But he was no office romance. Laura, his wife, was still attending high school when he took over his father's business, made her his secretary. However, the announcement of his marriage came as a complete surprise to his friends.

Still another political light, Congressman La Guardia, married the girl who helped him run his office and aided him in his political campaigns. Now, happily married, she still helps him in business and politics.

Others on the list include C. W. Post, who founded the Postum company. E. M. Statler, the late millionaire hotel-owner, married his secretary. She continued to be his chief assistant while he lived. After his death she was appointed manager of the enormous string of Statler hotels.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, married his secretary last year in London, England.

Of course, one must not assume from the foregoing instances that the paths of secretarial romance—as well as all it is—always be strewn with primroses. Very often it proves to be a rugged, thorny one. A notable example of the latter was the case of Mrs. Lillian Altwater, wife of Mrs. Lillian Altwater, who had won her divorce from him only three weeks before he married his secretary, brought suit for $250,000 for alienation of affections against her successor. There were few primroses on that path.

There are many angles to be considered in this secretarial-boss marriage idea which Dr. Cornell has failed to take into account. Chief among them is the problem of recreation and relaxation from business thoughts and worries.

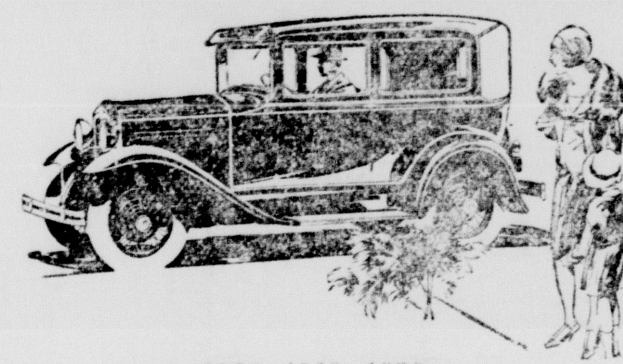

When a man marries his secretary and she continues to help him in his business, there ceases to be any such thing as "after office" hours. The couple are in each other's company constantly—24 hours a day—and all of the time both are burdened with mutual business worries.

Glenn and Lea Bennett and Lowell Edgerton entertained with two songs.

A playlet, entitled "Father Goes on a Day," completed the interesting program.

Refreshments were served by the committee.

Fan Mail Keeps Daisy DeBoe Busy In Los Angeles Prison

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Daisy DeBoe, who had two years in which to study closely the mysterious "it" possessed by Clara Bow, feels that a girl is both lucky and unlucky if she has it.

The screen star's former secretary made such a declaration as she read her "fan mail" in the county jail, where she has been since last Friday when she was found guilty of grand theft. She has received enough letters to keep her occupied until next Monday when her attorney will argue for a new trial.

Gets Many Letters
"Mothers, men and young girls are writing to me from all over the country," Miss DeBoe said. "The mothers—orange as it may seem—ask me for advice about their daughters."

She went through the stack of paper and held up a bulky envelope, "there is a woman who wants me to give my opinion of 'it' and tell her what can be done with daughters who seem to be letting a gay life get the best of them," she said.

"I am writing her that a straightforward personality is preferable to 'it' and that I consider this quality better than the more spectacular aspects of sex appeal. Of course there is no use denying that 'it' has some advantages. It brings fame to some girls and to others it brings only trouble."

"Lesson To Girls"
Another letter referred to the stand of the woman juror who said she held out to convict Miss DeBoe on one of the 35 counts "as a lesson to young girls."

The letter urged Miss DeBoe to accept her conviction as a martyr and "get comfort from the fact that she was chosen as an instrument of warning to other girls."

"I can't be in sympathy with that philosophy," she said. "I don't believe in martyrs. I believe people should be convicted or acquitted on the evidence and not for the sake of being examples to others."

Nancy Miller, the Seattle girl, who created a big sensation by her marriage with the Maharajah, of Indore, is pictured above with her husband at St. Moritz, Switzerland. The American wife of the Rajah has so far embraced the customs and habits of her husband's country that she has had a ruby inserted in her forehead as shown in the above picture.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Samplers Are in Again
Those lucky persons who own, or have free access to an old garret, are now digging up finds for the new vogue—samplers. Faded or dusty linens, whereon simple verse and noble sentiments were embroidered long, long ago, are now considered delightful wall decorations for the modern home.

For the guest room there is a motto of cheerful good will and hospitality. Quaint figures of old-fashioned youngsters in prim poses make delightful decorations for the children's room. And for the big, homely fireplace a wall motto, simply framed, may add warmth and cheer to the room.

Framing the Samplers
Of course there aren't quite enough unransacked garrets in the country to supply the demand for old-fashioned samplers. So the modern craftsmen are reproducing the old patterns and ideas, and as they are scrupulously copied by some specialists in this field, the result is not only as good as a fragile antique, but even better.

And ambitious ladies, with leisure enough and a little taste for needlework, can make their own. These charming pieces are easy enough to make—the fabrics come stamped with mottos, or one can order any stamping desired. Cross-stitch may be used in a single color or in varying tints of the same color—which latter gives a more hand-made appearance. The finished sampler is stretched over a frame and covered with glass, preferably, although some do hang up the sampler exposed. If the frame is the same shade as one of the colors used in the embroidery it may be more attractive than the conventional wooden frame that matches the other furniture in the room. This, however, is purely a matter of taste. Incidentally, these framed samplers, made by loving hands, are a graceful gift to offer the week-end hostess.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Must It Be Fruit-Cup?

"We have fruit-cup for dinner every night—it's the only way to make sure the family eats its quota of fruit."

That's the theory of some housekeepers. And it seems to have been adopted by the majority of restaurateurs, for wherever you go from the simplest to the most elegant of dining places fruit-cup is inevitably and invariably on the menu.

As a matter of fact epicures don't quite agree with the practice of serving a sweet at the beginning of the meal. Fresh fruit is highly desirable as part of a dinner, indeed the best foreign cooks top off the dinner with a simple dessert of fresh fruit, perhaps accompanied by a bit of cheese. And there is much to be said for the idea of transferring fruit from the beginning to the end of a dinner.

The first course, which is, supposedly, an appetizer, can take one of many forms. Instead of fruit cocktail a fish cocktail of some sort is a better stimulant of appetite. Shrimp, clam, oyster, crab, lobster, thoroughly chilled and dressed with a sauce composed of lemon juice, chili, horseradish, dash of Worcestershire, is a snappy introduction to a good dinner.

As an appeal to the eye, the family of canapes is useful. A thin slice of bread, plain or toasted, cut into fancy shapes—stars, diamonds, rounds, or carved with a doughnut cutter and spread with brightly colored mixtures, may be delightful. Canapes, by the way, are among the least expensive of the entrees—and can make the best showing. Served on a large platter, half a dozen kinds, each topped off with a bit of attractive garnish—like sliced stuffed olive, pimiento, a bit of black caviar, halved salted almond, grated yolk of hard-cooked egg can be most decorative. Appetizers must vary, if they are to serve their purpose.

TS. PAUL, Minn. — "Come into our parlor," said five prohibition agents to alleged bootleggers, as they arrived one by one in answer to telephone calls made from a confiscated list. Six men and a woman were arrested, six gallons of liquor and six automobiles were confiscated.

PREBLE COUNTY CORN GROWERS HAVE OWN CLUB

Their Land Yielded 100 Bushels To Acre During 1930

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29.—Only one farm in Ohio, that belonging to Glen Brown and Son, New Paris, Preble county, furnished an official yield of 100 bushels of corn per acre on a ten acre plot in 1930.

Glen Brown and son are the sole members of the 100 bushel corn club for 1930, a club sponsored by the agricultural extension service of Ohio State university. Early in the year 1930 other farmers signified an intention with R. D. Lewis, extension specialist in farm crops for the university, to try for membership in the club, but owing to the drought, none of these was successful.

The 100 bushel corn club was first organized in 1917, and its membership composed of those farmers who have grown 1000 bushels of shelled corn in 10 acres. In the 15 years the club has been in existence, 173 yields of more than 100 bushels an acre have been measured by the university's specialists. Lewis explains, however, that the club by no means contains all the growers of corn who have obtained this yield in Ohio. It contains, he says, only those farmers who attained the yield months after expressing an intention of trying for club membership. The drought so seriously reduced the yield of corn in Ohio this past year that only a few of the entrants in the contest desired to have their yields measured.

Club members are scattered over 43 counties in the state.

COURT NEWS

Appeals To Common Pleas

Fred Stanfenger, found guilty in the court of Mayor J. M. Davidson at Salem, Dec. 24, last, for reckless driving, has appealed the case to common pleas on error.

W. O. Wallace, as counsel for the plaintiff in error, has set up that the court had no jurisdiction to try the case, and that an ordinance under which the case was tried was not passed and recorded as provided by law. It was also set up in the petition that there was no finding by the court that the defendant was guilty.

Making the Air Safe for Dirigibles

$4,500,000
METAL DIRIGIBLE

THE WRECK OF THE SHENANDOAH

NEW YORK — Although some Congressmen objected to the appropriation of $200,000 for the purpose, Ray Leech, English mechanic, who has just come to the United States, enthusiastically approves experimentation with metal-clad dirigibles.

Only men who, like Leech, have survived a dirigible disaster, can appreciate the added factor of safety that metal sheathing will give to lighter than air craft. Leech was one of the seven persons who were thrown to safety from the R-101, British airship that burned in France.

With the $200,000 appropriation that Congress voted after much bitter wrangling, engineers at Detroit will develop plans and make experiments for the fastest and safest of all dirigibles. The completed ship is estimated to cost $4,500,000.

The specifications read like the dream of a scientific aviation enthusiast. "This most powerful aerial war machine will be all-metal clad—after the type of the ZMC-2, which passed all her tests successfully. She will be 547 feet in length and have a maximum diameter of 119.5 feet, displacing 3,856,500 cubic feet of air and have a gas volume of 3,758,300 cubic feet.

Eight engines with a total of 4,800 horsepower will give her a maximum speed of 100 miles per hour—twenty-five greater than that of the Graf Zeppelin. The craft will have a gross lift of 100 long tons. She will be particularly designed to act as tender for a fleet of airplanes and in addition will be armed with ten machine guns, thousands of pounds of bombs and with this load will have a cruising radius of 2,200 miles.

As an added safety factor only helium gas will be used as a lifting agent. The danger from inflammable hydrogen gas has been the greatest drawback so far to the success of the lighter than air machine. On October 4 of last year the disaster to the British airship R-101 shocked the world. On her way from Croydon, London, to India, she crashed into a wooded hillside near Allone, France, exploded and burned up. Forty-seven lives were lost, among them Lord Thomson, Secretary of State of the air. Only seven of the passengers and crew survived, one of the passengers being Harry Leech, who is now in this country with Capt. Malcolm Campbell, who is about to attempt to break the world's automobile speed record at Daytona Beach, Fla. Another shocking airship disaster occurred when the Shenandoah, pride of the U. S. Navy air force, was destroyed while flying over Caldwell, Ohio, on Sept. 3, 1925. There have been many theories advanced to account for the crash but no two groups of investigators have

You Can

at SARBIN'S
286 East State Street

agreed as to what caused it. One of the survivors gave his version of the crash:

"We sailed over Cambridge in gathering clouds and were headed for Columbus.

"The wind began blowing a gale, and we came down a little to get out of the air pocket. Suddenly a squall struck the ship from below, forcing it up about 2,000 feet. Then another hit us and the Shenandoah broke into three pieces."

There were 43 persons aboard at the time of the accident, and out of that number 14 were killed and two were seriously injured.

Other airship disasters were:
1919—The British airship, NS-11 fell into the North Sea; 12 killed.
Airship fell into Illinois Trust and Savings Bank at Chicago in flames; 10 killed.

1921—Dirigible ZR-2, bought in England for the United States, met with disaster over the Humber River; 40 killed, including 16 Americans.

1922—Army dirigible Roma crashed to earth in flames near its base at Hampton roads, Va.; 34 killed.

1923—French airship Dixmude, struck by lightning, dropped into Mediterranean; 52 killed.

Most of those fatalities were directly attributed to the use of inflammable gas and fuel and the world has learned its lesson.

The Los Angeles, with a safe record of six years of flying, uses helium. Experts have recently estimated that she is good for two more years of flying.

The Graf Zeppelin, which has more mileage to its credit than any other airship also uses helium. The Graf's trip around the world last year was a classic of aviation. On her 18,000-mile jaunt she carried a crew of 42 and a cargo of mail valued at $150,000. The trip took 19 days, 2 hours and 7 minutes; but the actual flying time was 301 hours and 18 minutes.

Despite the imposing list of disasters, airship travel is getting safer; and with the advent of the all-metal ship with non-inflammable lifting agent it will be as safe as an everyday Pullman ride.

WIDOW OF 1812 WAR VET LIVES WITH DAUGHTER

She's One Of Nine Whose Husbands Followed Flag
In That Conflict

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Ohio's surviving widow of a veteran of the War of 1812 sits by her window tonight, knitting and remembering the war record of a family whose members served in the armies of the United States a span of almost a century and a quarter.
She is Mrs. Daniel Isgrigg, 82.
Nine women whose husbands followed the flag in 1812 still live in the United States, and of them
Mrs. Isgrigg is the youngest.
As a young girl of 21 she married Isgrigg, then 75. He was more than a soldier, she says, he was a mus-cian. She admits there is somewhat of a contrast between the white of the bullets and the soft notes of Isgrigg's violin, as they charged into the spring night during a courtship which culminated in marriage back in 1871. Isgrigg died a decade later.
Three of Mrs. Isgrigg's brothers were soldiers in the Union army during the Civil war, and she has a great grandson who is a marine in Nicaragua, and who frequently sends home trinkets of his adventures with Uncle Sam.
Isgrigg remembers little of her husband's record in the War of 1812. The government takes care of that. Each month she receives a pension, which helps in her support. She lives with her daughter Zetella. This says Mrs. Isgrigg, "was the name of a melody of the old, old times my husband loved to play. So our daughter bore the name."

plunged in to the rescue.

NEW YORK—The fishing schooner, Good Luck, is for sale.
One reason that captain John Ben-dike, the owner, is certain the boat is misnamed. Good Luck was searched so much by the coast guard he says, that he lost $2,000 on a cargo of fish and the coast guard found nothing but fish.

LONDON—It is costing the Earl of Chester a lot of jack on his current trip to South America. He has to pay out of his own pocket. If he went as the Prince of Wales and got incorporated, John Bull would pay for everything.

MEMPHIS—Babe Ruth and Bill Terry are to have new war clubs of ash, 29 years old. Graham Boyd of Memphis, a former ball player, cut the wood on his Arkansas plantation in 1911, put it away to season and forgot all about it until recently, when he gave it to the stars.

Learns to Fly in Record Time

Henry Biers, 17, (left) learned to make a solo flight in the world record time of 1 hour and 40 minutes. He is shown thanking Lester Flewellin, his instructor.
The former record was one hour and fifty-five minutes. Biers is employed as an airplane mechanic at Roosevelt Field, L. I., but despite his close association with airplanes of every kind he never had a chance to realize his ambition of going aloft—alone.

"LIGHTNING"
At The Grand
Will Rogers possesses one of the most resonant voices of the screen and it records perfectly and naturally in "Lightning," now playing at the Grand.
Rogers portrays the role of "Lightning" Bill Jones in the comedy drama, adapted from John Golden's tremendously successful stage play. Bill is lazy, friendly, genial and loquacious, especially when he has been indulging in drink. He is whimsical and tells some of the biggest lies ever heard, his imagination running riot when he is properly "fueled."
But Bill is "nobody's fool" and turns out to be the hero before the picture reaches its climax.

Louise Dresser, popular on both the stage and screen, enacts the role of Rogers' wife in this production, and Helen Cohan, youngest daughter of George M. Cohan, appears as their daughter. Others in the large cast are Joel McCrea, Frank Campeau, Sharon Lynn,
Ruth Warren, J. M. Kerrigan, Joyce Campion and Rex Bell.
"PASSION FLOWER"
At The State
"Passion Flower," Kathleen Nar-ris' stirring account of a woman who, failing to find happiness in her own "money marriage," attempts to break up the domestic tranquility of her cousin who has thrown wealth overboard in order to marry her father's chauf-eur—is the new picture which is the feature at the State theater.

Kay Johnson, who starred in "Madam Satan" and "Billy the Kid," recent pictures here is seen as Cassy Pringle, who is content to exchange a millionaire's mansion for a two-room attic flat and the man whom she loves; Charles Buck-ford, who will be remembered for his work in "Dynamite" and in
"Anna Christie," has another dramatic role as the chauffeur who is driven to extremes in order to support his wife and child; Kay Francis, of "Street of Chance,"
"Raffles," plays the discontented "Dulce whose boredom with an elderly invalid husband drives her to drastic action in an effort to secure the love of Cassy's husband; Lewis Stone portrays the invalid husband.

"COURTIN' WILDCATS"
At The Royal
Hoot Gibson portrays a college youth and a tenderfoot with a wild west show in "Courtin' Wildcats," high-speed picture coming to the Royal theater tonight. Hoot, who has had considerable experience driving in auto races, performs some hair-raising stunts at the wheel of a racing roadster. Eugenia Gilbert has the role of leading lady, and the cast includes Mary Todd, Joseph Girard, Monty
Montague, John Oscar, Jim Corey, James Farley, Pete Morrison and Joe Bonomo.

VALUE OF CROPS IN OHIO DROPS

Drought And Low Prices
Reduce Production
Returns

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—The 1930 crop production in Ohio was valued at $182,064,000, or nearly 30 percent less than the value of crops produced in 1929, according to a report of the United States department of agriculture, bureau of agricultural economics.

The drought and low prices, as well as a four percent decrease in total crop acreage were responsible for the low farm value this year, according to A. R. Tuttle, agricultural statistician.

Ohio corn in 1930 suffered materially from the drought. They yield per acre of 25.5 a bushel is the lowest shown since 1890.

Total wheat production was only slightly below average. Most of the wheat, being winter wheat, matured early enough to escape the serious drought.

The oat crop turned out much better than was expected, according to Tuttle. Many fields matured rather early but the grain was rather heavy and of good quality. Barley, like oats, showed an improvement by the late rains. The final yield reached 90 bushels per acre.

Fruit production was exceptionally light both in 1929 and 1930. The apple crop in 1930 suffered from spring freezes while peaches received most of their injury from low winter temperatures. Pear production showed about a nine per cent increase and grapes about doubled the crop of 1929.

Ohio Girl is Made Happy

MANY times a child has everything to make her happy and still is dissatisfied. This may not be the youngster's fault. Often it is due to a condition easily corrected.

Take the experience of Mrs. H. B. Hapson, 1449 East 88th St., Cleveland, who says: "Nothing seemed to please Leona Mae. She was fretful, feverish, suffered a lot from constipation."

"We saw California Fig Syrup advertised and got some. It relieved her trouble promptly; made her bright and happy again. We have used it for over a year."

Mothers by thousands praise this pure vegetable product. Children love it. Doctors recommend it to relieve constipation, feverishness, fretfulness, headaches; to open the bowels in colds or children's ailments.

Appetite is increased by the use of California Fig Syrup; breath is sweetened; coated tongue is cleared; digestion and assimilation are aided; weak bowels and stomach are strengthened.

For your protection, the genuine always bears the name California.

ACROSS AMERICA.
THE SOLDIERS' MONEY.
IMAGINATION'S POWER.
SOME HEADLINES.

(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

DODGE CITY, KANS., Jan. 30.—Through California, Arizona, New Mexico, southern Colorado, and now as far as Dodge City in Kansas, this fast Santa Fe train runs across the continent in a matter-of-fact way. For conductors and porters it is as much a matter of course as a New York trip from the Battery to Harlem for a subway guard.

If you can afford it you should make this trip. If not, you should make it as it is made by the family waving six or eight arms from a small automobile on the highway beside the railroad track. The trip in that car with five passengers, plenty of luggage on both sides and in the back, costs for gas and oil less than $50. No excuse for not seeing the whole of this country.

Secretary Mellon tells the soldiers that it would take $3,400,000,000 to pay their cash bonus and the would raise taxes in general and "upset the nation, retarding instead of helping prosperity."

The Secretary's action is probably the country's greatest financial expectation. What he says commands respect. But soldiers who want their money in cash, that they may spend it as they choose, feel that if prosperity came when the nations poured out billions for airships that wouldn't fly, surface ships that never left the dock, prosperity also might be established on a small scale by soldiers spending their few billions.

To control men, appeal to their imagination. Napoleon knew it, dressed in magnificent robes of ermine and velvet, he took the imperial crown from the hands of the pope and placed it on his own head at his coronation.

Mayor Thompson of Chicago knows it, as proved by his plans for the approaching campaign. The Albuquerque Journal tells you that from Tucumcari, Arch Hurley has sent to Chicago's mayor two donkeys and a magnificent horse.

In his election parade Mayor Thompson will ride the fine horse, dressed as a cowboy, big hat, high heels and all. The two donkeys will follow behind carrying dummies representing Thompson's competitors in the campaign.

The dummies will have to think of something ingenious to offset that blow.

"$90,000 Farc. Trap In Loop."

"Gang Tricks Rich Victim With Society Woman Lure."

"Florist Is Found Shot to Death In West Side Mystery."

"$300,000 Rum Seized."

"Reward Spurns Hunt For Store Kers."

"Rush Police Killer From Berwyn Jail As Mob Organizes."

For the Chicago newspaper and other important newspapers, Calvin Coolidge has written his opinion that old age pensions are not advisable. Says he: "What a self-respect."

MULLINS PLANT CHIEF OBSERVES 75TH BIRTHDAY

W. H. Mullins Looks Back Over Life Of Varied Achievements

"CITY HAS BEEN KIND," HE SAYS

Treasures Birthday Letter From Foremen's Club At Factory

Industrial leader, philanthropist, community builder and an outstanding citizen, W. H. Mullins who approximately 50 years ago established the business that now is known as the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, today looked back over a life of achievement in varied lines as he quietly observed his 75th birthday at his home, South Lincoln avenue.

A spring-like sun this morning sparkled brightly on snow crusted tree limbs lining, campus like, the broad street in front of the Mullins home and stole cheerfully through the big windows from which Mr. Mullins looked at the outside world.

Awaited Call From Daughter

In cheerful mood as he awaited a telephone call from a daughter, Mrs. Rose Modette, in California, he expressed his pleasure that he could call Salem his home. "I've been here for 50 years now," he commented. "The city has been very kind to me. I value very highly the many friendships that have come to me. I appreciate all of these things."

Unwilling to comment on his own achievements and benefactions, he nevertheless had ample praise for his associates and the workmen at his plant. "This," he said, revealing a letter, "has touched my heart."

From the Foremen's club of the Mullins plant, and written in observance of Mr. Mullins' birthday, it read:

"We cannot let you pass the 75th milestone on your magnificent journey through life without a full

Tickets will be sold at the door.

THREE SLAYERS TO DIE TONIGHT

Robbers Convicted in Death of Colorado Deputy Sheriff Await Trip to Gallows

(By Associated Press)

CANON CITY, COLO., Jan. 30.—Three men convicted of slaying Carver A. Hickman, Eads, Colo., deputy sheriff in their flight, last March after robbing a Mañitar, Kan., bank of $4,000 were to be hanged here tonight.

The condemned robbers, John Walker, 46; Claude Ray, 24, and Andrew Halliday, 22, are to go to the gallows between 9 and 10 p. m. Walker was visited yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Julia Rhodes, 71, of Hopkin, Mo., whom he failed to deceive with the assertion he had escaped with a 20-year sentence. The prisoner had written letters to her for twenty years in advance and requested that one be mailed each month from the prison.

PARTNERSHIP IN 1882 LAUNCHED MULLINS PLANT

Corporation Is Nearing Half Century Mark In Progress

W. H. Mullins, industrial and community developer, who today observed his 75th birthday anniversary, laid the foundation for the present corporation in 1882 when he formed a partnership with T. H. Bakewell for the manufacture of sheet metal products.

Prior to coming to Salem, Mr. Mullins worked in the purchasing department of the Pennsylvania railroad in Pittsburgh, with an uncle, William Mullins.

Buys Out Partner

The Mullins-Bakewell partnership thrived and in 1890 Mr. Mullins purchased his partner's interest. He continued the business for several years when he formed the W. H. Mullins company, taking in a number of his key men as stockholders.

In 1919 he formed the Mullins Body company with a capital of 100,000 shares of preferred stock and 100,000 shares of common stock. Nine years later the preferred stock was retired and the Mullins Manufacturing corporation was formed, $30,000 worth of new preferred stock being issued.

This stock of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation was traded in on the New York and Boston stock exchanges.

For the last six or seven years, Mr. Mullins has not been actively engaged in the management of the

McKinley Day Speakers Approve Convention Method

500 REPUBLICANS ATTEND DINNER

Importance Of Party Responsibility Stressed In Addresses

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)

CANTON, O., Jan. 30.—James T. Begg, of Cleveland and Gilbert Bettman, attorney general, in addresses delivered here last night at the annual McKinley day banquet, stressed the importance of party responsibility as a cure for many political and economic problems now vexing the nation.

Comment On Future

The attorney general announced publicly that he is not a potential candidate for any office except the one he now occupies, and Begg, a former member of congress, and unsuccessful candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1928, and now mentioned as a probable candidate in 1932, refrained from commenting seriously on the subject.

Mrs. Wilma Sinclair LeVan of Steubenville, former national committeewoman from Ohio, spoke briefly on the political outlook for 1931. More than 500 Republican men and women from all parts of Stark county attended the dinner.

The Republican party is in need of leaders with courage enough to carry out the sound principles of government advocated and believed in by William McKinley, the speakers declared.

Both Begg and Attorney General Bettman attacked the present primary system of nominating candidates, and suggested that the primary law should be amended to make possible the selection of candidates by convention.

MAN INJURED IN FALL AT PLANT

North Jackson Resident Sustains Fracture Of Skull At Mullins

Falling 14 feet to a concrete floor at the Mullins Manufacturing corporation plant Thursday night, William Yost, 52, of North Jackson, sustained a fractured skull and is in a critical condition at the City hospital here today.

Yost fell from a temporary scaffold built for the erection of new sand blasting equipment now being installed at the plant. He fell head first through a hole in the scaffold, striking his head on a steel beam.

The man was helping in structural steel work at the plant and had assisted in moving a motor from the first floor to the scaffold. A board was taken from the scaffold to lift the motor through, plant officials said this morning. Yost fell through the hole to the floor.

Fellow-employees, working overtime with Yost in order to complete installation of the new equipment, rushed to his aid. The O. G. Stark ambulance was called. The injured man was treated by Dr. L. F. Derful.

Will Decide Today

The board heard the appeals Wednesday and announced it would submit its decision to Governor White today. McCartney's mother appeared personally before the board, asserting her son left home early in life and was not a killer. Written evidence was presented in behalf of Sites and Massa. The latter's mother wrote that she had no money to help her son.

THREE YOUTHS CALM AS DEATH IN CHAIR NEARS

Scheduled To Die Tonight For Slaying Of Galion Man

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—Three young men waited calmly in Ohio penitentiary's death row today as the state prepared to take their lives in the electric chair tonight. They are Earl Sites, 27, Fred Massa, 27, and Kenneth McCartney, 25, all of Mansfield.

They were sentenced to die for killing Ralph Wilcox, Galion filling station operator, during a holdup June 27, 1930. Wilcox, shot down in the presence of his wife, died August 4.

Attacked Woman

Before they were convicted of first degree murder, the men were sentenced to 20-year terms in the penitentiary for attacking a woman in Richland county. The attack occurred shortly after the holdup. Crawford county officials identified the prisoners and they were returned to Bucyrus where they were given separate trials on the murder charge.

Sites and McCartney said Massa fired the shot that killed Wilcox. Counsel for the trio carried the case to the Ohio supreme court claiming among other things that the trial judges were prejudiced. The high tribunal declined to review the convictions and relatives turned to the state clemency board in a final effort to stay execution of the death penalty.

McCartney's mother appeared personally before the board, asserting her son left home early in life and was not a killer. Written evidence was presented in behalf of Sites and Massa. ## Duce Is Satisfied With Apology

(By Associated Press)

ROME, Jan. 30.—The annoyance of Premier Mussolini at remarks of a Major General Smedley D. Butler describing him as a hit and run driver and of a war-like nature was said in official circles today to have been assuaged by an official apology from the American government.

The Duce was represented as considering now that General Butler's views were those of only one American general and not of the American people. His attitude has calmed somewhat, a rising tide of popular indignation and appears to have closed what might have been an unpleasant incident.

Lecture Contract Report

In Atlanta, Ga., Russell Bridges, southern manager of Lyceum bureau, insisted Butler had signed a lecture contract effective February 1, and preparatory to going on tour, had submitted his resignation.

Secretary Adams said no resignation had yet reached his office. Butler himself could not be reached, but his aide, Lieutenant Lucian C. Whitaker said he was certain no resignation had been submitted.

Butler's speech, by no means the first to bring him into conflict with his superior officers, was made in Philadelphia, January 19. He was quoted as saying Mussolini had run over a child with his automobile and driven on. He gave an unnamed friend as his authority.

Makes Official Apology

The Italian embassy protested. The state department asked the Navy department for information and the latter asked Butler for an explanation. Yesterday, Secretary

Police today were organizing plans to combat the operations of petty robbers who within recent weeks have entered a number of Salem homes, small losses, chiefly cash, being reported in most instances.

Thieves entered four South Lincoln ave. residences within the past 48 hours, it was reported by Acting Police Chief Ralph Stoffer today. Three homes, all located within one of the city's leading residential districts, were entered last night, only a small amount of loot being taken.

NO TIME FOR BICKERING

The American people have accepted the responsibility of caring for drouth sufferers in Arkansas and a score of other states. They have subscribed one-third of the $10,000,000 asked, despite the most trying circumstances.

While the need continues and increases, the senate argues with the administration and the Red Cross over the part the federal government will play in the relief. The effect is most disconcerting: a drive that ordinarily would have required 10 days already has continued two weeks and isn't finished yet. The senate's determination to force an appropriation of $25,000,000 on the Red Cross, despite the administration's objections, the Red Cross justified refusal to accept it could not help but have a deterrent influence on the drive.

The senate cannot be censured harshly, much as that might satisfy its critics. There is no reason to believe that first determination to appropriate $25,000,000 of government money to distribute among the needy over the entire country arises from anything but emotionalism and an idea of its functions most decidedly contrary to the conception held popularly. Senator Robinson, leader of the movement to go over the head of Mr. Hoover, is superseding the work of the Red Cross, is a fine man. He comes, furthermore, from Arkansas where relief is needed most. It is most unfortunate that his estimation of the senate's duty at the present time happens to be different from that of the majority of the citizens. There is no valid reason, however, why he and many other senators should not be shown the general public's idea of how the situation should be handled.

The Red Cross is the only organization able to do the work that awaits doing. It is and as long as it continues in its present form, should be the nation's official relief agency. The public prefers that the money it provides for unfortunate people here and abroad should be obtained by popular subscription, not by appropriation from general funds levied on the public to pay expenses of running the government. When people start looking to an impersonal agency for help rather than to their friends and neighbors a valuable principle has been destroyed. If the Red Cross accepted federal funds now, it would be expected to accept them in the future.

Furthermore, there is no wisdom in duplicating relief work, which is what the senate proposes to do by making its $25,000,000 fund available for distribution in cities. Kind-heartedness, however commendable as a quality, is no excuse for toying with the dole in the United States. However discouraging may be the bickering in Washington on the subject it is of infinite importance that it be kept in the background. The immediate need is for the American people to get behind the Red Cross drive and put it across the line. That will be the most convincing evidence that the public disapproves of the senate's idea.

EVEN JUICY APPLES HAVE WORMS

Testimony given by Hugh H. Cooper before the house ways and means committee is stay-up-late reading for American business men. In five years United States could sell Russia $1,000,000,000 worth of goods annually, is the substance of Mr. Cooper's remarks. He is supervising the $50,000 horse power project on the Dnieper River for the Soviet government. Formerly, he engineered the construction of the Muscle Shoals dam.

Incidentally, Mr. Cooper mentioned that the future of the U. S. S. R. is so big that he can't begin to grasp it and that the ability of Uncle Sam to have a share in it rests in the hands of congress, which will determine embargo policies on Russian goods. Marriage and forced labor don't worry him overly much; the women have had sense enough to put their foot on everything that didn't safeguard them properly, and as for forced labor, Mr. Cooper would like to see someone "force" the 16,000 Russians working for him on the Dnieper project.

But, getting back to the thought of that $1,000,000,000 worth of goods that Russia might make from the United States every year—ummm, what a nice, juicy apple that would be. A few more like it, displayed by gentlemen Mr. Cooper's turn of mind, and the state department may be urged by hungry business men to forget certain well-established policies. It is not likely to force Russian debts, the activities of Communist party in the United States and other disturbing factors, at mating matfeels.

What Others Say

GOVERNORS' CONFERENCE—Gov. Roosevelt did a fine thing in inviting governors of the leading eastern states to discuss means of dealing with economic crises. It is well to strike while the iron is hot. But the hammer must be cold. Outside the capitol at Albany where the governors were assembled marched radical labor pickets demanding relief measures "without any further conferences." Dealing with more consideration was the word of caution, uttered by one of the speakers in the executive chamber, lest industry, now prostrate, be overwhelmed by too sudden and too heavy new burdens. It would be folly to rush into hastily considered legislation. But it would be worse to sit still and do nothing.

Plainly, the present emergency has had a highly sobering effect on our mood. We are not so cocksure as we used to be, not so confident that all is well with our American industrial system. Fundamentally it is sound. But no industrial system is perfect which permits the misery and suffering which we have lately witnessed. The outpourings of charity, as from some magic horn of plenty, have been magnificent. But they ought not to be necessary—at least not to this end and on this scale. "It is doubtful whether, in the present temper of this country," said Leo Wolman at Cleveland, "the prospect of millions thrown on the generosity of the community by depression will again be tolerated."

We have been through depressions before, of course, and we shall go through them again. But we have more experience than ever before, and it is for us to turn lessons of that experience to our future advantage. This is particularly true of the various systems of unemployment insurance, both here and abroad. No one in his senses would want America to copy the British system. Its best friends admit that the pooling of the unemployment funds of all industry there has encouraged shiftlessness. Some of its advocates on this side of the Atlantic naively suggest that we adopt the dole, but without any of its excesses. As soon suggest politics without favor, or children without tears. If England and Germany are too far away for the nearsighted they have only to glance at the history of pensions and other veteran benefits in this country.—New York Times.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Thoughts while strolling. The dolorous cry again of "Cash Clo!" men. Pierre, the Mussolini of dining rooms. People who pronounce theater "theatra." I'd like to see Florence Reed and Pauline Lord in the same play. One of those agonizing things that make you sob out loud.

V. V. McNitt, a Trent, Mich. boy, who made good in the city. With Meredith Nicholson would come to town. Similie: "As glittering as a nut store." Lads who wear muffers jauntily. Mine gives the appearance of a sore throat. Never went to a big party without seeing Louis Wiley.

Trust avenue jewelry store that opened the day of the crash. And weathered it. Storm. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, who belongs to more clubs than the Prince of Wales. Wellington Cross and wife. A blonde with a turbaned East Indian. Broadway's best known haberdashery clerk—Dave Levy.

A poetically named tea room: "The Cafe of Graceful Pause." If anyone asks me to any more backgammon parties I'll scream. The only thing that will stop me on the way to a fire is a taxicab driver's row. O. Soglow, the artist London is giving Paris a run in perfumes making.

Anna May Wong speaks not only English and Chinese, but French and German. Her real name means Frosted-Yellow-Willows. Those old fellows with string ties and wide hats who look like stage types of great statesmen. And sell corn salve on street corners.

The studio where Clare Briggs first lived in New York. Why is memory such a tyrant? Some people infuse a shrug with high drama. A fellow I should have tipped last Xmas but didn't. Business of gazing into a window. The yacht business is not what it was.

While New York has a few remaining slums, not one offers that depressing squalor most of us knew back home by such names as Frog Holler, Jimtown or such and stretched so drearily back of town and across the railroad tracks. They were approached through a gulley of tin cans, roaming goats and acrid odors. In such districts was always an incredibly old man with matted hair hobbling about with a crooked stick. He was known as a miser and finished up in the potter's field.

In these areas were poor white trash types of boys who chased you and me home from school. The girls had sore eyes and peeped from behind kitchen doors when strangers passed. A man became of age when he had suffered the seven year itch three times. Almost invariably there was a family named Potts and another named Parsons.

There was no grandiloquent institution such as The City Infirmary. It was known harshly as the poorhouse and an inmate was "livin' off the county." Skirting such district was "The Pest House," where seasonal victims of smallpox were taken. Today they are known as Isolation Hospitals.

Fortnightly some resident of the Frog Hollers would load up on pop-skull whiskey and on his way home fire off a .45 calibre revolver in front of the Baptist church and in police court next day faced the charge of "disturbing public worship." Then, too, there would be those long-drawn-out feuds. About once a year someone would knock-off a neighbor from ambush in a dispute over a line fence. Frog Hollers had no money but life wasn't so drab. Ba-looey!

As a brief peeker at a debbie party recently it interested me to note the change in dancing. Young couple no longer go into a clinch. They circle each other a waist with an indifferent arm and walk slowly around like lovers at dusk in the leafy Bois—a mocking modern scherzo. Free arms hang carelessly at sides and hands hold the casualty puffed cigarette. It is a bored gesture of sure indifference, the ladies turning to those who cut in with a suppressed yawn. It was no place for an old dodo who likes to twirl in a Gay Ninety waltz. One-two-three! One-two-three!

The Stars Say

For Saturday, January 31

The lunar configurations for this day are ready as very propitious, especially favoring advancement, promotion, increase of funds and a measure of fulfilled ambitions. It is a time for forging ahead with vim and confidence, with new undertakings under excellent prospects. There may be an abrupt or unwelcome change or a threatening gesture of some kind, but it may not be strong enough to circumvent the generally auspicious rulership of Jupiter favorable.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of growth, advancement, enhanced position and finances, with fulfilled ambitions and successful new projects, although there may be some slight chord of disruptive or unwelcome tenor. A child born on this day should be talented, ambitious, popular and enterprising, and should reach good position through its own initiative and talents.

Arteries and Old Age
We often hear the expression, "A man is as old as his arteries." It is certainly true that some men grow old faster than others. No two individuals, even though they live under the same conditions, will reach old age at the same time. In this respect no two individuals are identically alike.

"Arteriosclerosis" is a big word, isn't it? It means hardening of the arteries. It is observed when the change which normally occurs as old age approaches.

Some individuals acquire this change prematurely. The vessels no longer are soft and pliable. They become firm and at times may actually become brittle. Due to these changes, the blood vessels actually break. When this happens the blood rushes out, escaping into the surrounding tissues.

Any change in the elasticity of the blood vessels causes them to become less efficient. The normal artery is elastic, and because of this elasticity, is able to propel the blood on its way in a steady, even flow. If the artery has become hard and firm, as in arteriosclerosis, the blood is not assisted on its way in the proper fashion. As a result of this the heart is compelled to work harder.

In arteriosclerosis there are parts of the body which do not receive the proper blood supply. This decrease in the blood supply leads to various complaints. Chronic headaches, high blood pressure, lower resistance to infectious diseases, disorders of the heart and kidneys—these are some of the disorders which follow these changes in the blood vessels.

Various explanations have been given as to the cause of hardening of the arteries. Some claim the trouble is due to poisons from infectious diseases, from lead poisoning or alcohol. Others claim overwork to be a most important factor. The overwork may be physical or mental. In any event, this condition is found as frequently among laborers as it is in college professors.

As we grow older our blood vessels become older by losing their elasticity. Undoubtedly our modern ways of living contribute to the occurrence of the condition in middle life.

No one definite thing can be said to cause this condition. But all agree that the prevention, as well as the cure, lies in simple hygienic living.

INCREASE SHOWN
Million Dollars More In Banking Institutions This Year
(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—An increase of approximately $1,000,000,000 in savings deposits in the United States was shown in 1930, according to an estimate made public by the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. Deposits of Mutual Savings banks in 17 states showed an increase of $600,000,000 while thrift total deposits in other classes of banks are estimated to have advanced not less than $400,000,000.

Depositors increased by more than 500,000 during the year, while total deposits showed a gain of $592,607,440 over the previous year. Assets also showed an increase from $9,934,568,723 to $10,585,056,321.

New York state led in the amount of increase in savings deposits with $403,608,314.

Pennsylvania was third with gains of $45,190,257 in deposits and $4,421 in depositors.

T. F. Wallace, president of the Savings Banks' association and head of the Farmers and Mechanics Savings bank of Minneapolis, considered the increase in savings over last year as sure sign of better times ahead.

Exhibits Sample Of Water Clock

C. M. Wilson, Jeweler, Shows Replica Of Querc Timepiece in Use Centuries Ago

That people of the 17th century valued time even as highly as we do today is a fact proved by the inscription on an ancient Clepsydra of Water clock now on display in the window of the C. M. Wilson Jewelry store.

The Clepsydra, which translated literally from the Greek, means "thief of water" is one of the earliest of ancient timepieces. It was preceded only by the sun-dial. According to some chronologists the water clock in its simplest form was used by the great Hwangti, Emperor of China, nearly 3000 years before Christ.

Hwangti's "clock" consisted only of a brass bowl floating in a large basin of water. The bowl was pierced at the bottom and the hours were calculated from the length of time taken for it to fill with water and sink. A slave attendant was always present to recover the bowl, set it floating again and to announce the time to the entire countryside by striking a huge gong.

Pompey made use of the Clepsydra in his law courts to limit the time of speakers.

During the middle ages the Clepsydra was in common use and its fame had spread to the four corners of civilization.

The Hamilton-Sangami corporation in selecting pieces for its extensive horological collection, discovered a unique specimen of an old English Clepsydra complete with a 24 hour dial. Seeing in the rare old clock an interesting as well as educational display piece, several replicas were made for the use of retail jewelers throughout the country.

The unusual old clock will still operate if its brass cylinder is filled with water. As the water slowly escapes, a metal float to which is fastened a weighted chain, is gradually lowered. The hour hand is moved around the dial by the chain.

At the base of the clock is a detachable brass receptacle which catches the escaping water and on it the signature and inscription etched by the maker in 1682—ending like a voice out of the past with that apt quotation, "Time Passeth Swift Awaye."

TEAR UP CRAFT IN LIQUOR HUNT; GET NO RESULTS

Zealous Coast Guards
Ruin Vessel; Captain
To Make Protest

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30. — Capt. John Bendiksen of the schooner "Good Luck" will not go down to the sea again for any more codfish. The zeal of certain members of the coast guard who, in a search for non-existent liquor, bored holes in his ship's hull, knocked in her bulkheads and left her a total wreck after spoiling $800 worth of fish and holding the captain and crew incommunicado for 24 hours has deprived him, he said, of his means of livelihood.

Will Sue Protest
Capt. Bendiksen said he would file a formal protest with the collector of the port against the actions of the coast guards and customs men. And then, he said, he would retire from the sea. He is tired of raiders.

The schooner was returning through the narrows on Monday loaded with 16,000 pounds of fish, after a trip to the fishing grounds, when the coast guard patrol 213 stopped her. Guardsmen, commanded by Boatswain, Carson, made a brief search. Finding no liquor, they removed the hatch covers, in spite of Capt. Bendiksen's protest that it would melt the ice and spoil the fish. Then they ordered him to proceed to the Staten Island base for a more thorough search.

Put Guards on Boat
The captain refused, saying he was headed for Fulton market, and had no liquor, only fish. The guardsmen capitulated, and allowed him to continue to the market, with two guards on board. There they sent a call to the customs enforcement division, and a dozen customs officers rushed to the pier. The captain and his crew were held below decks until Tuesday night with only a dozen eggs and a loaf of bread to eat. During this time, Capt. Bendiksen alleged, the guardsmen and customs officers attacked the schooner with augers, crowbars and longshoremen's hooks. They bored holes in her deck, hull, and partitions. Tore up planks and ripped off doors. They knocked a hole through the section between the engine room and the icebox, so that the ice melted and most of the fish spoiled.

Finally, finding no liquor, the searchers told Capt. Bendiksen that he and his crew were free. The ship was ordered released.

At the customs enforcement bureau it was said the schooner had been on the "suspect list" for ten years.

Capt. Bendiksen paused in his work of nailing up a "for sale" sign to the mast of the vessel to say he believed the raid was the result of a tip given the officers by a sailor he discharged recently. He had fired the man, he added, for intoxication.

GRANTS REQUEST TO END SERVICE

Federal Judge Permits Abandonment Of Railway

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 29. — The Cleveland Southwestern railway operating 200 miles of lines in northern Ohio, will pass from existence by the end of next month.

Federal Judge Samuel H. West signed a court order permitting abandonment of service late yesterday, granting the request of C. J. Mayers, former vice president and present receiver for the company.

Employees Protest
Dropping of service had been protested by employees of the road, who claimed 250 men would be thrown out of work and 1,500 persons indirectly affected. Mayers, however, said the line had operated at a loss of $153,000 last year. A foreclosure suit for $2,000,000 bonds filed against the road by the Guardian Trust company of Cleveland, is pending.

Under the order, the Cleveland-Bucyrus division through Wooster and the part of the western division from Operlin to Wellington will cease operation. The Elyria city line, the western division between Cleveland and Operlin and the branch from Elyria to Operlin will operate until midnight, February 28. Freight service on these lines will end at midnight tomorrow.

Sold By Court Order
The order specified that no poles, trolley wires or any other property of the company may be sold except by court order. The power business of the road was sold in 1928, to the Reserve Power and Light company for more than $2,000,000, which was applied on the interurban indebtedness. At a hearing in federal court here Wednesday, the employees' committee charged that the railway discriminated in favor of the power company.

BOSTON—Children afflicted with whooping cough are now permitted to skate on the Public Garden pond. But they must have pinned to their coats "quarantine signs" bearing the words, "Warning, Whooping Cough."

CLEVELAND — Five thousand "joints" comprise Cleveland's list of liquor, vice and gambling establishments, according to the 1930 report of Detective Captain Emmet J. Potts. The number was said to be a decline over that of six months ago.

EINSTEIN GIVES ASTRONOMY NEW IDEAS TO PROBE

Visits Mt. Wilson Observatory, Then Goes To Show

BY WALTER B. CLAUSEN
Associated Press Writer
MOUNT WILSON OBSERVATORY, CAL., Jan. 30.—Dr. Albert Einstein visited the foremost astronomical observatory in the world here last night, looked through the largest of telescopes, listened with interest to the fascinating story of the cyclones of the sun as seen in sun spots and vouchsafed another scientific hypothesis.

Perhaps, he said, the sun was like the earth and had different temperatures at its north and south poles than at its equator.

Opens New Field
This suggestion opens a new field of research into the mysteries of sun spots. The cyclones of the sun behave like storms on the earth, appearing to originate in polar regions, and their movements in north and south hemispheres are similar to storms on the earth.

The poles of the sun might be either colder or warmer than its equator, he observed, warmer if the polar regions were flattened and the sun slightly oblate rather than round.

This new theory is not unlike other Einstein theories. Some 15 years ago after physicists and astronomers for 200 years had been in a wilderness of doubt because Sir Isaac Newton's law failed to explain the behavior of mercury, a simple pronouncement from Einstein led to the special theory of relativity.

Works Unified Field Theory
Then a few years ago when physicists were mystified by the complications of electro-magnetism, gravity, and light, Einstein suggested they might be all essentially the same and on that hypothesis worked out his unified field theory.

In the company of Dr. Walter S. Adams and Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, astronomers, Einstein last night looked through the big Mt. Wilson telescope at the planetoid Eros, 16,000,000 miles from the earth. He also viewed Mars 40,000,000 miles distant, and saw the craters of the moon, 240,000,000 miles away. Then he donned evening clothes and went to see the premiere of Charles Chaplin's latest movie.

STAR GAZERS LOOK AT EROS. SKY TRAVELER

PASADENA, CAL., Jan. 30.—Astronomers at Wilson observatory are studying the uncertain topic of "Love."

In this case "Love" is the little asteroid, named for Eros, whom the ancient Greeks visualized as a nude boy who shot love arrows into people and caused all kinds of complications.

Here are the problems Eros was presenting to the world of science tonight on his closest approach to the earth of any heavenly body during the last 50 years:

1. Why does the little asteroid wink its eye every five hours?
2. How big is this brightly shining but intensely cold chunk of celestial stone?
- 3.—How far away is Eros exactly?

The answer to the third question will give scientists their most accurate "yardstick" for measuring the entire solar system, the sizes and distances of the sun, all the planets and the various moons.

Eros was due to pass within 16,000,000 miles of the earth tonight. All over the world astronomers are using the close approach to determine the "solar parallax" which they explain is the small angle which does big things such as showing the sun is 93,000,000 miles from the earth.

Under the order, the Cleveland-Bucyrus division through Wooster and the part of the western division from Operlin to Wellington will cease operation. The Elyria city line, the western division between Cleveland and Operlin and the branch from Elyria to Operlin will operate until midnight, February 28. # FIGHT TO FINISH ON RELIEF FUND CALLED IN HOUSE

Vote Scheduled To Follow
Two Hours' Debate
On Proposal

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Democratic leaders were mustered into a council of war today in their campaign to appropriate government funds for the relief of suffering in the drought area.

Meanwhile the house squared away for a finish fight on the proposal, already approved by the senate, that $25,000,000 be turned over to the Red Cross. An agreement providing two-hours debate followed by a vote was in effect.

Seek Some Other Agency
Following the refusal of the Red Cross to accept the fund, the Democratic chieftains were seeking to determine upon some other agency to handle the money. They suggested the Salvation Army, the Public Health service and the American Legion.

The crucial question of an extra session, bringing into office the evenly divided seventy-third congress shortly after March 4, was involved in the Democratic meeting.

The $25,000,000 fund is attached to the interior department appropriation bill as an amendment. Should an unsettled controversy between the senate and the administration, which is determined against the proposal, kill the whole measure, a special session must be called or the interior department will be without funds for the next fiscal year.

Approve Amendment
Late yesterday the senate approved an amendment to the war department appropriation bill under which 20,000,000 bushels of wheat now held by the farm board would be given to any agency the president may designate for distribution to the needy.

The proposal was approved by a vote of 46 to 16 and presented the house with a new issue. Before the vote Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, severely criticized those in charge of relief work. He said their "present disposition" was "to do as little as possible and to delay doing anything as long as possible."

Chairman Payne of the Red Cross last night issued a statement denying that organization was playing politics in refusing to accept federal funds.

LEADS FUR COAT TO FAKE BARON

Now Aimee Semple McPherson Is Out $900, Says Story

(By United Press) LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Aimee Semple McPherson, evangelist, was defrauded of $900 by a fake Hungarian baron during her recent pilgrimage to the Holy Land, the Los Angeles Examiner said today.

Mrs. McPherson met the "baron" at Budapest, the newspaper declared. He was said to have told her that his funds from Switzerland had been delayed. She gave him a fur coat with which to obtain a loan, the paper said, but was unable to recover it before she sailed from Europe. A letter to Mrs. McPherson later told her that the coat was in pawn for $900, which sum, it was said, Mrs. McPherson paid. The Examiner declared that W. Joseph Ford, the evangelist's attorney, has been investigating the "baron" and the transaction and a letter allegedly demanding $20,000 from her for "breach of contract." Ford refused to comment on the report and Mrs. McPherson was out of the city.

recognition, but only of your achievements, but of the love and admiration that you have built up in the hearts of thousands whom you number as your friends.

"Among those of your old associates in business, the men into whose lives you have brought so much that was fine and good, the example that you have always set for them, high ideals in the performance of their duties, there is an especially warm feeling of friendship and esteem that cannot be altered because of infirmities which prevent your being with us daily.

"It is the wish of the Foreman's club of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation and all of your old friends and associates that this, your 75th birthday, may be one of the happiest you have ever experienced. We also wish to express the further hope that you may remain with us for many years as a constant reminder of the business you founded, built up and made to prosper for our benefit as well as that of the entire community."

After the war he contributed the Memorial building in East State street for the use of the public.

He has always been prominent in hospital activities, contributing largely to its erection and support. He built a nurses' home, named in honor of his mother, Mrs. Hannah Mullins.

JURY DISAGREES IN MOORE CASE

Columbiana Man Indicted For Resisting Officer; Shot In Leg

LISBON, Jan. 30.—A jury that heard the case of Clyde Moore of Columbiana, indicted for resisting an officer, failed to agree, and was discharged by Judge W. F. Lones at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. This case went to trial last Monday afternoon.

Moore was shot in the left leg by Marshal E. L. Mitchell when he went to arrest Moore, and when Moore, pointing an unloaded single barrel shot gun at Mitchell.

A jury drawn to determine the sanity of Norman Brasecker of Pittsburgh, Pa., indicted for stealing 38 chickens from William Essler, found the defendant to be insane at the time of the commission of the crime. Physicians testified that the mentality of Brasecker "ran in waves."

Benjamin Travers, Jr., who was indicted for shooting Jess Brooks of Wellsville with intent to kill, changed his plea when taken before Judge Lones and he entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to serve from one to 20 years in the Mansfield reformatory. Travers is 22 years old, being one of the youngest indicted by the last grand jury.

ing people really needs is not a system of old age pensions but a regulation made sufficiently skilled by education and sufficiently self-controlled and well-disposed by the help of religion, so that old age pensions would be a superfluous. Unless real reform comes from within the problem never will be solved.

Education some day may provide for old age. Meanwhile, what self-respecting old people want is something to eat and a place to sleep outside of the poor house.

They have plenty of religion, but can't eat it, unfortunately.

After you have taken all the work out of an old horse, you should either knock him on the head or feed him.

After it has taken all the work out of old men and women, their country can't knock them on the head and therefore having had their work, it ought to feed them.

Good news for fruit and vegetable growers. Swift & Co., the great Chicago packers, will add to their activities the canning of vegetables and fruits, thus adding Swift & Co.'s wide distribution powers to the resources of the growers.

Production is solved; distribution is the problem. Government regulations, preventing the packers from going into any kind of business, or engaging in any kind of distribution, are harmful.

The best possible way to help the farmer is to encourage distribution, which means greater consumption and greater prosperity.

NEW FACTION IN CONSERVATIVES' RANKS IS SEEN

Looms As Probable Denouncement Of Indian Disagreement

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Jan. 30.—Birth of a new faction within the ranks of the Conservative party was seen today as the probable denouncement of disagreement on Indian policy between Stanley Baldwin, and the outspoken Winston Churchill.

From correspondence between the two Conservative leaders, just published it appears that Churchill while his "warm personal friendship" for Baldwin is undiminished, thinks it best that he abstain from meetings of the party's business committee—or war council—which is composed of the inner few and includes, chiefly, former cabinet ministers.

Baldwin, while equally warm in his personal remarks, accepts Churchill's view that he should cease attending the cabinet meetings.

Churchill is not alone in dissenting from the Baldwin Indian views. Lord Lloyd, former Egyptian high commissioner and always outspoken, starts tonight in Manchester on a barnstorming tour of denunciation of the Indian round table conference and its works.

"A new faction, if it is born," the Liberal News Chronicle said today, "need not confine itself to a policy of treating India rough, what about free trade? Mr. Churchill's real views on this subject are well known and they are certainly not those of Mr. Stanley Baldwin."

ture, the attorney general charged the governor with "passing the buck" to the people on four issues, namely, welfare program, old age pensions, drivers' licenses and state police. The governor, in his message, suggested that these issues be submitted to the people for referendum, Bettman said. He also advocated a four-year term for all state officials.

On the question of prohibition, Bettman declared that the problem never will be solved "until the Republican party takes the leadership and shows the people the way out."

Both speakers sharply criticized the so-called Independents in politics who forget party allegiance immediately after they are nominated and elected.

New Blast Puzzles Youngstown Police

FEDERAL GRAND JURY INDICTS FOUR IN WEST

Using Mails To Defraud Is Charge Against Quartet

(By Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 30.—A pamphlet, "Why investors Lose In Oil," has led to the indictment of an ex-governor, a former New York police commissioner, an editor and a stock promoter on charges of using the mails to defraud.

J. C. "Jack" Walton, impeached as chief executive of Oklahoma; Richard E. Enright, ex-commissioner of police; Henry Knight Miller, editor of "Psychology," and S. E. J. Cox, of Oklahoma City, were among 19 persons formally accused by a federal grand jury here.

Operate In "Oil And Gas"

They face charges in the operations of the defunct Universal Oil and Gas company.

Roy St. Lewis, district attorney, asserted the pamphlet, written by Walton, assisted in building up confidence through which the public was defrauded of $750,000. Walton, now a candidate for mayor of Oklahoma City, was the first chairman of the reorganization board, the district attorney said.

Cox, recently acquitted of mail fraud charges in Texas after serving a previous term with Dr. Fredrick A. Cook, arctic explorer, and oil promoter, was said to have been the unofficial head.

Free On Bond Cox and eight others have been free on bond for months. Walton, Enright and Miller have not been arrested.

Enright previously had been questioned in connection with a letter published over his signature by the company. The letter, purporting to be the report of an investigation, said the company was "one of the most profitable in America."

Lewis said at that time the company was paying out 99 cents of every dollar to salaries and promotion.

Miller was to have been paid five per cent of brokers' commissions for advertising in his magazine, Lewis said.

Evidence before the grand jury included a letter, purporting to bear Walton's signature, to prospective customers.

corporation although he is a director and chairman of the board.

This corporation, of which he has been the guiding spirit, has been engaged many years in the manufacture of sheet metal boats and sheet metal stampings for automobiles.

However, it is understood that within the last year or two, the corporation has developed a number of new lines such as radiator enclosures, evaporators for electric refrigerators, and tubs and wringers for electric washing machines.

In addition, it is now experimenting for the International Nickel company for the manufacture of kitchen sinks and other similar furnishings from Monel metal.

Company representatives feel that this is going to be one of the organization's largest lines, sometime in the future. Workmen are now finishing up the first of the sinks and production, probably, will begin within the next few months.

Broke Into Auto Field

The high cost and shortage of lumber, at one time used in the manufacture of automobiles, brought the Mullins company into auto body work. Company officials tell today how the Pope-Toledo manufacturers, encountering difficulty in getting timber large enough to make the backs of automobiles, because of supply shortage and extreme high costs, prevailed upon the Mullins company to aid them in their dilemma.

The Salem company then went into the production of automobile bodies from metal. Their boat business has covered a period of approximately 30 years.

CAPITAL HEARS BUTLER TO QUIT

Reports Say Marine Officer Mill Make Lecture Tour

Stimson headed Ambassador De Martino an official apology which was cabled at one to Rome.

Almost simultaneously, Secretary Adams cited Butler for a general court martial. The task of preparing specifications and charges was given to Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, judge advocate general of the navy. These must first be approved by Secretary Adams and then will be served upon Butler.

Will Prepare Defense

Then, Adams will appoint an officer of the navy's legal branch to act as prosecutor and from five to thirteen to serve as the court. Butler will be given time to prepare his defense.

Recalling the trial of Colonel William Mitchell, frequently mentioned in connection with the Butler case, Washington is looking forward to a spectacular battle when the court martial begins. Mitchell and Butler are associated in Washington memories as daring, unorthodox and colorful.

What the official charge against Butler will be was the subject of much speculation. The regulations make no mention of remarks about officials of another government. Those familiar with military procedure were of the opinion he would be accused of "conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman."

FOUR WILL BE ARRAIGNED IN LORAIN MURDER

First Degree Charge To Be Made In Slaying Of Salesman

(By Associated Press)

LORAIN, Jan. 30.—Police Prosecutor Albert Gruelich said four men would be arraigned on first degree murder charges today for the beating to death of Norman J. Watte, 69, whose career brought him from a member of the Chicago board of trade to a novelty salesman in Lorain.

Gruelich announced he had obtained signed confessions from Edward J. Nolan, Jr., 28, and Spencer Stevens, 23, both sailors; Arthur Wallace, 30, proprietor of a magic shop, and Jack Rice, 30, a painter and magician.

Money Provided Motive

The quartet plotted the slaying of Watte in the belief that he carried a large amount of money, according to the prosecutor. Watte, although poorly dressed and accustomed to sleep in Wallace's shop, had been seen to produce $50 bills in paying for his meals.

The salesman was beaten to death in Wallace's shop late Wednesday. Wallace and Rice said he was the victim of holdup men who fled through the back door, but detectives became suspicious when they were unable to find any tracks in the mud in the rear Wallace and Rice were held for questioning and the arrests of the two sailors followed early yesterday.

Killing Is Plotted

Gruelich said Nolan told him he and Stevens noticed Watte sleeping on the floor of Wallace's shop three night ago. They walked with Wallace and Rice the next day and the four then were alleged to have plotted the killing.

Watte was a graduate of the University of Chicago and was a member of the Chicago board of trade in 1893, according to R. A. Vondander, of Chicago, his brother-in-law. Von Dander said Watte had lived in Cleveland for the last five years, going to Lorain a few months ago.

Bulkeley To Address Members Of Ohio Bar Association At Meeting In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—United States Senator Robert J. Bulkeley was among today's speakers at the mid-winter meeting of the Ohio Bar association. His topic was "Some Observations of the Senate In Action."

Governor George White and Judge John J. Parker, of North Carolina also were on the speaking program.

Several important proposals were up for consideration at the business sessions. One calls for legislation to require all persons practicing law in Ohio to become a member of the bar association. A number of delegates yesterday voiced opposition to such a plan.

PITTSFIELD, M.—Charged with stealing three Bibles, Mrs. Porter Chase was fined $5 and costs in district court. She appealed.

Seniors Asked To Pass Opinions On Faculty In Examination

COLUMBUS, Jan. 30.—Seniors at Ohio State university will be asked during the spring quarter to pass judgment on the teaching ability of members of the faculty in whose classes they have been. Their replies will be used by the university in helping to determine the value of individual members of the teaching staff.

Final approval of this student grading of faculty members has been given by President George W. Rightmire upon recommendation of the Student Senate faculty grading committee.

The seniors will be asked in questionnaires to give their personal estimate of members of the teaching staff on such matters as interest in subject, sympathetic attitude towards students, fairness in grading, liberal and progressive attitude, presentation of subject matter, sense of proportion and humor, self-reliance and confidence, personal peculiarities, personal appearance, and stimulating intellectual curiosity.

The questionnaire results will furnish President Rightmire with the student viewpoint on faculty members. The grading system is one of the many projects included in Dr. Rightmire's new personnel program in which he aims to form closer contacts with the students.

If the plan proves feasible and the results valuable, it may be extended later to a rating of all members of the instructional staff by asking freshmen, sophomores, and juniors to pass similar judgment.

Search Is Extended
In War On Auto Ring

(By International News Service)
AKRON, O., Jan. 30.—With the discovery in Wheeling, W. Va., of five more automobiles allegedly stolen by a nation-wide auto theft ring, search for its members has spread to Steubenville today as Akron detective and federal agents from Pittsburgh attempted to unravel further details of the ring's operations.

The alleged ring was exposed when Akron police arrested a man after he attempted to sell two automobiles to Akron used car dealers.
Both cars were said to have been stolen.

Government agents took a hand in the case when Akron officials allegedly uncovered information that the gang, which is believed to have its headquarters here, was dealing in interstate transportation and sale of stolen machines.

Ten-Year Rum Seizures
By Coast Guard Hit
High Figure

(By Associated Press)
MARBLEHEAD, O., Jan. 30.—
The modern Odyssey of Lake Erie contains a little verse dedicated alone to the Coast Guard.

"Night and day they go their way,
"Chasing Bacchus every day."
The members of this branch of the service, in its status as a dry agency but little over a decade old, puff their pipes these wintry nights, and discuss the most stirring of their adventures in the business of harassing rum runners between Canada and the United States.

In the past ten years it has been estimated unofficially they have captured cargoes of liquor valued at $142,000. One of the favorite sports of the coast guardsmen here is that of estimating just what they would do if they individually possessed this small fortune.

Worth Half Million
This same amount of liquor, according to Deputy Collector of Customs Roy M. Downing, if sold at bootleg prices, would be almost at the half million dollar mark.

Life in the winter for these enforcement agents means day after day of monotony, lookout duty, yarn swapping and repairing boats.

Sometimes they are called on for a mission of mercy when youngsters, skating, have broken through the ice, or when ice boats, now popular agents of sport in this vicinity, have run into difficulty.

They stir from their inactivity, like firemen when a ten blow alarm sounds.

COLLEGE YOUTHS
FACE RUM COUNT

Ann Arbor Trio Accused By Police
Of Being Campus Bootleggers,
On Way Through Courts

(By Associated Press)
ANN ARBOR, MICH., Jan. 30.—
Three youths accused by police of being campus bootleggers, were on their way through the courts today.

Orin Brown, 24-year-old freshman law student at University of Michigan, of Spencer, Iowa, who is accused of heading the liquor ring, pleaded not guilty.

His examination was set for February 6, on a charge of possessing liquor for sale and he was returned to Washnau county jail in default of $5,000 bond.

Robert Custer, 22, senior in the school of education, and his room mate, Allan Thompson, 21, not a student, waived examination and were bound over to circuit court on charges of possessing liquor. Both are from Marion, Ind., unable to furnish bond, they were returned to jail.

Custer has not given up hope of continuing in school. He is studying in jail, expecting to take his semester examination next week.

(By Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C.—In jail for life because he called on a girl against her father's wishes, Felix Wright has been freed by Gov. Gardner after seven years' confinement.
The parole papers say that after Wright had once been arrested for trespass in visiting the girl, she wrote him to call. He entered her house secretly at night and the father had him prosecuted as a burglar.

ful hazards on some links in Africa. Miss Ruth Hardy, Brooklyn school teacher, back from Uganda, is telling her friends that she drove a trap and her ball hit a sleeping hippotamus. She had to run to the clubhouse.

LONDON—A hotel in Kensington has ordered its waiters to grow side whiskers. It desires that servants be easily distinguishable from guests.

THE DAY In Sports

CRUCIAL GAME TONIGHT

Class A league activities for the second half of the current season get under way next Tuesday with two games played between the league's four entries. The complete schedule is now being arranged and will be announced soon and fans are eagerly awaiting the start of the half, anticipating the dethronement of the championship Golden Eagle team by one of its three opponents.

The McArtor Florists and Grove Electric are the main threats to the champions and there is a slight possibility that one or the other of this pair will trim them in the second round. If so, interest, now exceedingly high, will amount still greater and a play-off for the city title will be necessary next March.

The Class B circuit also exact much enthusiasm from fans, contests for titular honors in each league being hotter than ever before in the city's history.

Confident of victory, Salem High varsity tilters invade East Palestine tonight. The Brown and White though, will be no easy opponent for the Quakers and a hard fought encounter is anticipated. The game means everything as far as the county titular contest is concerned to both schools and still more to each, for they have been rivals for ages and Salem hopes to maintain its athletic supremacy in the county with a decisive victory.

Here's a comparison of basketball records of East Palestine and Salem High teams:

Palestine	Opponents
30	24-Brookfield.
24	13-Damascus.
20	10-Alumni.
19	16-Memorial.
13	11-Columbiana.
21	24-Boardman.
19	17-Struthers.
Salem	Opponents
25	36-McKinley.
17	21-Akron East.
28	22-Massillon.
34	33-Alumni.
25	22-Alliance.
23	22-E Liverpool.
34	11-Niles.
31	24-Lisbon.
36	21-Youngstown East.
24	21-New Philly.
36	28-E Liverpool.
48	24-Dover.

Salem High has scored 371 points to 291 by its 12 opponents, winning nine games against three defeats. East Palestine's point-scoring record shows 146 against 115 by opponents, Salem averaging 31 points a game against Palestine's 21 a contest.

In defensive play Palestine holds a marked edge, holding its opponents to an average of 16 points a game while Salem's antagonists have recorded an average of 24 a game. But then Palestine has not faced the class of opponents the Quakers have.

Canadians Conquer New York Americans

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The Montreal Canadiens, who beat the Boston Bruins in the final playoff for the Stanley cup last season, seem to be trying this season to show again that they have the better hockey team.

After the New York Americans defeated Boston last night, the flying Frenchmen stepped out and gave the Americans a severe trouncing. Tuesday, Philadelphia held the Bruins to a tie and last night the Canadiens romped through the Quaker defense for a 7 to 1 victory.

The Bruins, despite the illness of Lionel Hitchman, defense star, beat the New York Rangers. They came from behind to take a hard fought game, 4 to 3. Since the last Ranger victory in 1928, the Bruins have gone through 17 games without losing to the New Yorkers.

Like Boston, the Toronto Maple Leafs had to come from behind in the third period to beat Ottawa 3 to 2 in a game which again gave Toronto undisputed possession of second place in the Canadian division.

Ottawa Group Seeks To Buy Hockey Club

(By Associated Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 30.—An offer of $100,000 for the Ottawa Senators Hockey club, the price at which the present owners of the National league team have said they would sell if the purchasers agree to keep the team here, was made last night when the Senators were losing a game to Toronto.

The offer was made by Harold Code, Ottawa lawyer, in behalf of a group of local men.

Fight Results

NEW YORK—Mickey Taylor, Jersey City heavyweight, defeated Jimmy Turner, New York (8).
PHILADELPHIA—Gene Buffalo, Philadelphia Negro middleweight, knocked out Vincent Forgnone, Philadelphia (2).
PITTSBURGH—Benny Touchstone, Detroit heavyweight, scored a technical Kayo over Frank Novak, Pittsburgh (4).
MIAMI—Manuel Quintero, Tampa welterweight, knocked out Cliff Weltons, Hollywood, Fla., (7).

Palestine To Oppose Salem High Varsity; Girls, Reserves Play

Embattled in a fight for their fifth consecutive Columbiana county basketball championship, Salem High's varsity basketball team will invade the gymnasium of East Palestine High school tonight, involved in their fourth important county cage fracas of the current season. The game will be the main game of three contests scheduled tonight, junior varsity and girls teams of the two schools clashing in preliminary tilts.

By the slimmest of margins, hardly of sufficient importance to mention, the Red and Black tilters reign favorites over the opposing Brown and White quintet. The contest is one of three county battles still remaining on the Quakers' cage schedule and a victory tonight will practically assure Coach Floyd Stone's lads of titular honors for the 1930-31 campaign.

Important Contest
A close-forming defense, one that has held seven opponents to an average of 16 points to a contest, is expected to form Palestine's biggest bid for a victory over the Stone-men who for years have rung up victory after victory over the opposing county aggregation. The game

Star Leaves School
OXFORD, O., Jan. 30.—Basketball prospects at Miami university have sunk a little lower with the announcement of Harold North, star center, and football player for three years, that he would not return for the second semester.

takes the form of a crucial contest between two traditional athletic rivals, the two schools having clashed in all lines of sporting competition for more than 20 years.

Without beating around the well known bush, East Palestine must be accredited with a great opportunity over Salem's varsity. The team which last year held Salem to a 24-22 decision in a game played in this city, has gained considerable prestige in Northeastern Ohio as a result of six consecutive victories, one over Campbell Memorial and the other over Brookfield's gallant little machine, and fandum in the Brown and White school is confident of their team's ability to annex a decision over the Quakers.

Salem High will be seeking its eighth straight victory, having chalked up its seventh straight last week in defeating Dover, 48-24.

Palestine No Weakening
Salem's offensive formation will be given a severe test when it attempts to feel its way through the Palestine defense and a great contest between two entirely different styles of play is anticipated. Combined with its powerful defense, found almost impenetrable by several teams, Palestine has an offensive formation that has brought victory over Damascus, Campbell, Struthers, Columbiana, an Alumni team, and Brookfield. The defeat sustained from Boardman last Saturday is far from an indication of a weakness in the Brown and White's ability for Boardman rates well up among Class B leaders of the district.

To those fans still addicted for a liking to abide by dope as obtained by a comparison of scores it might be indicated that if there is any favorite to be found from tonight's varsity battle, it would be Palestine.

This decision would be reached by tracing down the fact that Akron North trimmed Alliance; Alliance beat Salem; Campbell Memorial walloped North High, and then, to emphasize the solemn news, Palestine trimmed Memorial 19-16. Then again, Salem found difficulty in winning over Lisbon, Columbiana, however, found Lisbon easy, and then Palestine won over Columbiana, 13-11 by nothing other than its superior defensive play.

No Change In Lineup
Palestine will use its strongest defensive formation with Weritz, Smith and Orsine as its main threats. No change looms in the Quaker starting lineup, it being almost assured that Smith and Beck will get the bid for forward posts; Early at center, and French and Sartick at guards.

Salem's biggest asset comes in the fact that the team is well balanced offensively and defensively. To date the team has flashed no outstanding stars in majority of games and any team that earns seven straight victories over such opposing talent as East Liverpool, Youngstown East, Niles and Lisbon, and then wallops Dover, 48-24, New Philadelphia 36-21, and others by 31 similar margins, must be figured as an aggregation that will be hard to stop on any court.

The Quakers have a team which plays best under fire. As in football the lads flash their best basketball when opposed by highly rated opponents, and so when Palestine's high-powered varsity is faced, the Stonemen rate as favorites.

East Palestine's reserves do not appear capable of halting the Quaker junior varsity quintet, and the latter is expected to pull in its 11th straight win tonight. The Salem girls too rule as favorites, Palestine having lost four consecutive games.

Military Academy Plans Grid Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Charges that West Point authorities have permitted proselyting of football players are to be investigated by the military academy.

Such an inquiry was demanded by Representative Fish, Republican, New York, late yesterday. General Douglas MacArthur, the chief of staff, said the charges would be forwarded to the academy for investigation. Specifically, Fish asked an investigation of the activities of W. T. Wrightson, a member of the Army Athletic association, and of Paul Carroll, a cadet, in connection with alleged efforts to induce Kenneth Goff, star Rhode Island state football player to enter the academy.

THURNBLAD HAS CUT TITLE WITH WIN OVER HALL

Swedish Star Wins Close Game, 50-43, In Final Of Tournament

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Arthur Thurnblad, of Chicago, who thought he could play billiards because he was a good geometry student, is the new three-cushion champion of the world.

The Lanky Swede captured the title worth between $20,000 and $30,000, by upsetting another Chicagoan, Allen Hall, 50 to 43, in 53 exciting innings last night, in the final match of the 1931 championship tournament.

Victory Unexpected
His victory was one of the most surprising triumphs since the days when the famous Willie Hoppe hitched up his short trousers and toppled over the gray thatched masters of yesterday.

Thurnblad, a draughtsman by profession, played a consistently brilliant game against Hall as he did in brushing through to the finals. Shaky and erratic at the start of the championship match, he made mistakes that enabled Hall to gain a 25 to 18 lead at the end of the twenty-third inning. Then he found himself and his steady stroke, tied up the count and then took the lead at 30 to 29 in the twenty-ninth inning.

Match Becomes Close
After that it was a close up and down match until Hall was stopped by three consecutive kisses in the forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth innings, that gave the new champion a lead of four points and shattered Hall's nerves. The hard match ended with Thurnblad running out with a cluster of four points.

More than $50,000 was wagered on the match, it was estimated, and the Thurnblad backers reaped a bumper harvest as their man entered the match on the short end of 7 to 5 odds.

MEDFORD, Ore. — Albert Hoffman, 16, hammered a cartridge which was a souvenir of the World war. It exploded. He died of the wound.

Sam Breadon Not Anxious To Trade

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 30.—Sam Breadon is so well satisfied with his Cardinals and their chances to retain the National league championship that he is not anxious to trade them. He can attend a meeting of the league's magnates without even slightly suggesting a trade to anyone.

As he prepared to depart today for the National league schedule meeting in New York next Tuesday, Breadon told reporters there were no deals pending between the Cardinals and any other club and "If I should do any trading it'll surprise me."

Harper Holds Lead in Billiard Clash

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Robert Harper of Denver, the defending titleholder, held a 16-point lead over Dr. Andrew Harris of Chicago as their battle for the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship extended into the second of three 50-point blocks.

The champion opened defense of his title yesterday by winning the first block, 50 to 34, in 61 innings.

Three Teams Tied For First In Class B Loop; Cadets Lose

The Bloomberg Clothiers handed the Emmanuel Lutheran church Cadets their second consecutive defeat Thursday night, throwing the titular race in the National league of city Class B competition into a three-way tie between the Clothiers, the Cadets and "Question Marks."

Winners Rally
The Bloomberg team took the long end of a 14-13 decision in a closely guarded contest last night, staging a great comeback to win out. The Cadets held a 6-2 lead at the end of the first quarter and were ahead, 11-2 at the half-way mark.

Each of three teams tied for first place have won five out of seven games.

There was no change in American league standings, only one game being played. This involved Schafer's Green Room team against the Salem Business College in a last-place fight, the Green Room winning, 30-15 behind great offensive work of Charlie Quinn.

Question Marks Win
The Question Marks advanced into the tie for the lead with a 36-13 victory over the Baptist church team. The winners grabbed the lead at the start and won easily to send the churchmen down to fourth place in league standings. Summaries follow:

AXPAYERS WIN IN RATE TANGLE

Bettman Rules Miami U. Land Not Subject To Assessment

(By Associated Press)
OXFORD, Jan. 29.—Taxpayers of Oxford and Oxford Township, are to learn that Attorney General Gilbert Bettman has ruled in their favor in a tax tangle, recently limited to him for a decision. In his opinion, he held that Miami University, or specifically, the lands owned by Miami University, under an act establishing the institution in 1809, are not subject to the tax 2.65 mills for school purposes and at the tax cannot be levied against the lands of the land.

This tax has been paid for fifty years and farmers, hard hit by the depression and its twin horror, the drought, are entertaining visions of vast refund by the state. Various unions have been advanced but it was certain to the village that a case will be held to decide upon the legality of Bettman's opinion. High came as the climax of months work on the part of Mrs. Mary Hughes, of this hamlet, who presented the case to the attorney general early this month.

She organized a League of College Land Owners, and as its secretary she led a committee to Columbus where the results of months of investigation were placed before Bettman.

As a result, a number of amusing questions are being asked by the village folk. It is claimed that since this was given Oxford Township in 1809, it is still owned by the federal government, and is a sort of western District of Columbia, where citizens, legitimately, might be denied the right to vote.

Office Romances on the Increase And Are Eminently Successful

Following the Oratory of the Noted Educator of the Northwestern University, Femmes of the Business World Walk on Winged Heels Keeping a Watchful Eye on the Boss Whom They One Day May Wed.

BISHOP and MRS. JAMES CANNON, JR.

MRS. CARL G. FISHER

MRS. MORGAN F. LARSON

DIANA ELLIS

MRS. BOB LAFOLLETTE

MRS. E. M. STATTER

NEW YORK—When Dr. Edward Lyman Cornell issued his now famous exhortation, "Marry your secretary" to the student body of Northwestern University, he imagined, as did most of the listeners, that he was expounding a new idea. He wasn't.

Marriages between secretaries and their bosses have been taking place for a long, long time and there's this to say for Dr. Cornell's theory—they turn out in most cases eminently successful.

For instance, Miss Ada Schmidt landed here from Denmark a short five years ago. For three years she worked as secretary and companion to the aged mother of Governor Morgan F. Larson, of New Jersey.

Then, to the surprise of his family and friends, Governor Larson and Miss Schmidt went and got married. And happily married at that.

Old "Fighting Bob" LaFollette was another luminary in the political sky who married the lady whose duty it was to record his words in black and white. After their marriage they continued to run the household and office together and everything worked out splendidly. Senator "Fighting Bob's" son, Bob, Jr., who took hold of the reins on his father's death, also married his secretary. But his was no office romance. Young Bob met his bride, Miss Rachel Wilson, while she was still attending high school and when he took over his father's business he made her his secretary. However, the announcement of his marriage came as a complete surprise to his friends.

Still another political light, Congressman La Guardia, married the girl who helped him run his office and aided him in his political campaigns. Now, happily married, she still helps him in business and politics.

Others on the list include C. W. Post, who founded the Postum company E. M. Statter, the late millionaire hotel-owner, married his secretary. She continued to be his chief assistant while he lived. After his death she was appointed manager of the enormous string of Statter hotels.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, married his secretary last year in London, England.

Of course, one must not assume from the foregoing instances that the paths of secretarial romance as well as all romance is always strewn with primroses. Very often it proves to be a rugged, thorny one. A notable example of the latter was the case of Mrs. Lillian Altmeyer Hecksher. Hecksher's first wife, who had won her divorce from him only three weeks before he married his secretary, brought suit for $250,000 for alienation of affections against her successor. There were few primroses on that path.

There are many angles to be considered in this secretary-boss marriage idea which Dr. Cornell has failed to take into account. Chief among them is the problem of recreation and relaxation from business thoughts and worries.

When a man marries his secretary and she continues to help him in his business, there ceases to be any such thing as "after office" hours. The couple are in each other's company constantly—24 hours a day—and all of the time both are burdened with mutual business worries.

Fan Mail Keeps Daisy De Boe Busy In Los Angeles Prison

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—Daisy De Boe, who had two years in which to study closely the mysterious "it" possessed by Clara Bow, feels that a girl is both lucky and unlucky if she has it.

The screen star's former secretary made such a declaration as she read her "fan mail" in the county jail, where she has been since last Friday when she was found guilty of grand theft. She has received enough letters to keep her occupied until next Monday when her attorney will argue for a new trial.

Gets Many Letters
"Mothers, men and young girls are writing to me from all over the country," Miss De Boe said. "The mothers—strange as it may seem—

ask me for advice about their daughters."
She went through the stack of paper and held up a bulky envelope, "here is a woman who wants me to give my opinion of 'it' and tell her what can be done with daughters who seem to be letting a gay life get the best of them," she said.

"I am writing her that a straightforward personality is preferable to 'it' and that I consider this quality better than the more spectacular aspects of sex appeal. Of course there is no use denying that 'it' has some advantages. It brings fame to some girls and to others it brings only trouble."

"Lesson To Girls"
Another letter referred to the stand of the woman juror who said she held out to convict Miss De Boe on one of the 35 counts "as a lesson to young girls."

The letter urged Miss De Boe to accept her conviction as a martyr and "get comfort from the fact that she was chosen as an instrument of warning to other girls."
"I can't be in sympathy with that philosophy," she said. "I don't believe in martyrs. I believe people should be convicted or acquitted on the evidence and not for the sake of being examples to others."

Samplers Are in Again

Those lucky persons who own, or have free access to an old armoire, are now digging up finds for the new vogue—samplers. Faded or dusty linens, whereon simple verse and noble sentiments were embroidered long, long ago, are now considered delightful wall decorations for the modern home.

For the guest room, there is a motto of cheerful good will and hospitality. Quaint figures of old-fashioned youngsters in prim poses make delightful decorations for the children's room. And for the big, homely fireplace, a wall motto, simply framed, may add warmth and cheer to the room.

Framing the Samplers

Of course there aren't quite enough unframed samplers in the country to supply the demand for old-fashioned samplers. So the modern craftsmen are reproducing the old patterns and ideas, and as they are scrupulously copied by some specialists in this field, the result is not only as good as a fragile antique, but even better.

And ambitious ladies, with leisure enough and a little taste for needlework, can make their own. These charming pieces are easy enough to make—the fabrics come stamped with mottoes, or one can order any stamping desired. Cross-stitch may

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Must It Be Fruit-Cup?
"We have fruit-cup for dinner every night—it's the only way to make sure the family eats its quota of fruit."

That's the theory of some housekeepers. And it seems to have been adopted by the majority of restaurateurs, for wherever you go from the simplest to the most elegant of dining places fruit-cup is inevitably and invariably on the menu.

As a matter of fact epicures don't quite agree with the practice of serving a sweet at the beginning of the meal. Fresh fruit is highly desirable as part of a dinner. Indeed the best foreign cooks top off the dinner with a simple desert of fresh fruit, perhaps accompanied by a bit of cheese. And there is much to be said for the idea of transferring fruit from the beginning to the end of a dinner.

The first course, which is, supposedly, an appetizer, can take one of many forms. Instead of fruit cocktail a fish cocktail of some sort is a better stimulant of appetite. Shrimp, clam, oyster, crab, lobster, thoroughly chilled and dressed with a sauce composed of lemon juice, chili, horseradish, dash of Worcestershire, is a snappy introduction to a good dinner.

As an appeal to the eye, the family of canapes is useful. A thin slice of bread, plain or toasted, cut into fancy shapes—stars, diamonds, rounds, or carved with a doughnut cutter and spread with brightly colored mixtures, may be delightful. Canapes, by the way, are among the least expensive of the entrees—and can make the best showing. Served on a large platter, half a dozen kinds, each topped off with a bit of attractive garnish—like sliced stuffed olive, pimiento, a bit of black caviar, halved salted almond, grated yolk of hard-cooked egg can be most decorative. Appetizers must vary, if they are to serve their purpose.

T. S. PAUL, Minn. — "Come into our parlor," said five prohibition agents to alleged bootleggers as they arrived one by one in answer to telephone calls made from a confiscated list. Six men and a woman were arrested, six gallons of liquor and six automobiles were confiscated.

PREBLE COUNTY CORN GROWERS HAVE OWN CLUB

Their Land Yielded 100 Bushels To Acre During 1930

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 29.—Only one farm in Ohio, that belonging to Glen Brown and Son, New Paris, Preble county, furnished an official yield of 100 bushels of corn per acre on a ten acre plot in 1930.

Glen Brown and son are the sole members of the 100 bushel corn club for 1930, a club sponsored by the agricultural extension service of Ohio State university. Early in the year 1850 other farmers signified an intention with R. D. Lewis, extension specialist in farm crops for the university, to try for membership in the club, but owing to the drought, none of these was successful.

The 100 bushel corn club was first organized in 1917, and its membership composed of those farmers who have grown 1000 bushels of shelled corn in 10 acres. In the 15 years the club has been in existence, 173 yields of more than 100 bushels an acre have been measured by the university's specialists. Lewis explains, however, that the club by no means contains all the growers of corn who have obtained this yield in Ohio. It contains, he says, only those farmers who attained the yield months after expressing an intention of trying for club membership.

The drought so seriously reduced the yield of corn in Ohio this past year that only a few of the entrants in the contest desired to have their yields measured.

Club members are scattered over 43 counties in the state.

Appeals To Common Pleas

Fred Stanfenger, found guilty in the court of Mayor J. M. Davidson at Salem, Dec. 24, last, for reckless driving, has appealed the case to common pleas on error.

W. O. Wallace, as counsel for the plaintiff in error, has set up that the court had no jurisdiction to try the case, and that an ordinance under which the case was tried was not passed and recorded as provided by law. It was also set up in the petition that there was no finding by the court that the defendant was guilty.

The couple were married at Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 25, 1907, and have seven children, ranging in age from 23 to five years. Upon final hearing of the case, in addition to a decree, custody of the minor children and alimony is asked.

Survivor of R-101 Disaster Is Enthusiast for Metal-Clad Airships, Like That Being Planned for U. S. Under $200,000 Appropriation to End Long List of Fatal Accidents.

NEW YORK — Although some Congressmen objected to the appropriation of $200,000 for the purpose, Ray Leech, English mechanic, who has just come to the United States, enthusiastically approves experimentation with metal-clad dirigibles.

Only men who, like Leech, have survived a dirigible disaster, can appreciate the added factor of safety that metal sheathing will give to lighter than air craft. Leech was one of the seven persons who were thrown to safety from the R-101, British airship that burned in France.

With the $200,000 appropriation that Congress voted after much bitter wrangling, engineers at Detroit will develop plans and make experiments for the fastest and safest of all dirigibles. The completed ship is estimated to cost $4,500,000.

The specifications read like the dream of a scientific aviation enthusiast.

This most powerful aerial war machine will be all-metal clad—after the type of the ZMC-2, which passed all her tests successfully. She will be 547 feet in length and have a maximum diameter of 119.5 feet, displacing 3,835,500 cubic feet of air and have a gas volume of 3,758,300 cubic feet.

Eight engines with a total of 4,800 horsepower will give her a maximum speed of 100 miles per hour—twenty-five greater than that of the Graf Zeppelin. The craft will have a gross lift of 100 long tons. She will be particularly designed to act as tender for a fleet of airplanes and in addition will be armed with ten machine guns, thousands of pounds of bombs and with this load will have a cruising radius of 2,200 miles.

As an added safety factor only helium gas will be used as a lifting agent. The danger from inflammable hydrogen gas has been the greatest drawback so far to the success of the lighter than air machine.

On October 4 of last year the disaster to the British airship R-101 shocked the world. On her way from Croydon, London, to India, she crashed into a wooded hillside near Allone, France, exploded and burned up. Forty-seven lives were lost, among them Lord Thomson, Secretary of State of the air. Only seven of the passengers and crew survived, one of the passengers being Harry Leech, who is now in this country with Capt. Malcolm Campbell, who is about to attempt to break the world's automobile speed record at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Another shocking airship disaster occurred when the Shenandoah, pride of the U. S. Navy air force, was destroyed while flying over Caldwell, Ohio, on Sept. 3, 1925. There have been many theories advanced to account for the crash but no two groups of investigators have agreed as to what caused it. One of the survivors gave his version of the crash.

"We called over Cambridge in gathering clouds and were headed for Columbus."

"The wind began blowing a gale, and we came down a little to get out of the air pocket. Suddenly a squall struck the ship from below, forcing it up about 2,000 feet. Then another hit us and the Shenandoah broke into three pieces."

There were 43 persons aboard at the time of the accident and out of that number 14 were killed and two were seriously injured.

Other airship disasters were:

1919—The British airship, NS-11 fell into the North Sea; 12 killed.

Airship fell into Illinois Trust and Savings Bank at Chicago in flames; 10 killed.

1921—Dirigible ZR-2, bought in England for the United States, met with disaster over the Humber River; 40 killed, including 16 Americans.

1922—Army dirigible Roma crashed to earth in flames near its base at Hampton roads, Va.; 34 killed.

1923—French airship Dixmude, struck by lightning, dropped into Mediterranean; 52 killed.

Most of those fatalities were directly attributed to the use of inflammable gas and fuel and the world has learned its lesson.

The Los Angeles, with a safe record of six years of flying, uses helium. Experts have recently estimated that she is good for two more years of flying.

The Graf Zeppelin, which has more mileage to its credit than any other airship also uses helium. The Graf's trip around the world last year was a classic of aviation. On her 18,000-mile jaunt she carried a crew of 42 and a cargo of mail valued at $150,000. The trip took 19 days, 2 hours and 7 minutes; but the actual flying time was 301 hours and 18 minutes.

Despite the imposing list of disasters, airship travel is getting safer; and with the advent of the all-metal ship with non-inflammable lifting agent it will be as safe as an everyday Pullman ride.

Way to Get At a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime? Adv

One Of Nine Whose Husbands Followed Flag In That Conflict

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, Jan. 30.—Ohio's surviving widow of a veteran of the War of 1812 sits by her window tonight, knitting and remembering the war record of a family whose members served in the ranks of the United States for almost a century and a quarter. She is Mrs. Daniel Isgrigg, 82, a woman whose husband followed the flag in 1812 still live in the United States, and of them Mrs. Isgrigg is the youngest. She is a young girl of 21 she married him, then 75. He was more than a soldier, she says, he was a musician. She admits there is something of a contrast between the sternness of the war and the softness of Isgrigg's violin, as they played into the spring night during a courtship which culminated in marriage back in 1811. Isgrigg died a decade later. Her three children, Mrs. Isgrigg's brothers, served in the Union army during the Civil war, and she has great-grandsons who are a marine aviator, and who frequently discuss home trinkets of his adventures with Uncle Sam.

Receives Pension
Isgrigg remembers little of her husband's record in the War of 1812. The government takes care of that. Each month she receives a pension, which helps in her support. She lives with her daughter Zitella. This says Mrs. Is-

Flashes of Life

OTTAWA—Frank Stiff is one of those Royal Canadian mounted folk who gets his man or what else he goes after. Lady Clark, wife of the British high commissioner, and Mrs. Gillies, wife of Colonel A. B. Gillies, encountered this man on Mackay's lake, Rockcliffe, when fishing. Mrs. Gillies fell into the water. Her shouts attracted the constable, who plunged in to the rescue.

NEW YORK—The fishing schooner, Good Luck is for sale. One reason that captain John Bendick, the owner, is certain the boat is misnamed. Good Luck was searched so much by the coast guard he says, that he lost $2,000 on a cargo of fish and the coast guard found nothing but fish.

LONDON—It is costing the Earl of Chester a lot of jack on his current trip to South America. He has to pay out of his own pocket. If he went as the Prince of Wales and not incognito, John Bull would pay for everything.

MEMPHIS—Babe Ruth and Bill Terry are to have new war clubs of ash, 20 years old. Graham Boyd of Memphis, a former ball player, cut the wood on his Arkansas plantation in 1911, put it away to season and forgot all about it until recently, when he gave it to the stars.

Learns to Fly in Record Time

Henry Bieders, 17, (left) learned to make a solo flight in the world record time of 1 hour and 40 minutes. He is shown thanking Lester Flewellin, his instructor. The former record was one hour and fifty-five minutes. Bieders is employed as an airplane mechanic at Roosevelt Field, L. I., but despite his close association with airplanes of every kind he never had a chance to realize his ambition of going aloft—alone.

MOVIES

"LIGHTNIN'"
At The Grand
Will Rogers possesses one of the most resonant voices of the screen and it records perfectly and naturally in "Lightnin'", now playing at the Grand.

Rogers portrays the role of "Lightnin'" Bill Jones in the comedy drama, adapted from John Golden's tremendously successful stage play. Bill is lazy, friendly, genial and loquacious, especially when he has been indulging in drink. He is whimsical and tells some of the biggest lies ever heard, his imagination running riot when he is properly "fueled."

But Bill is "nobody's fool" and turns out to be the hero before the picture reaches its climax.

"Passion Flower," Kathleen Norris' stirring account of a woman who, failing to find happiness in her own "money marriage," attempts to break up the domestic tranquility of her cousin who has thrown wealth overboard in order to marry her father's chauffeur—is the new picture which is the feature at the State theater.

Kay Johnson, who starred in "Madam Satan" and "Billy the Kid," recent pictures here is seen as a young girl who is content to exchange a millionaire's mansion for a two-room attic flat and the man whom she loves; Charles Bickford, who will be remembered for his work in "Dynamite" and in "Anna Christie," has another dramatic role as the chauffeur who is driven to extremities in order to support his wife and child; Kay Francis, of "Street of Chance," "Raffles," plays the discontented "Dulce whose boredom with an elderly invalid husband drives her to drastic action in an effort to secure the love of Cassy's husband; Lewis Stone portrays the invalid husband.

"COURTIN' WILDCATS"
At The Royal
Hoot Gibson portrays a college youth and a tenderfoot with a wild west show in "Courtin' Wildcats," high-speed picture coming to the Royal theater tonight. Hoot, who has had considerable experience driving in auto races, performs some hair-raising stunts at the wheel of a racing roadster. Eugenia Gilbert has the role of leading lady, and the cast includes Harry Todd, Joseph Girard, Monty Montague, John Oscar, Jim Corey, James Farley, Pete Morrison and Joe Bonomo.

VALUE OF CROPS IN OHIO DROPS

Drought And Low Prices
Reduce Production
Returns

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30.—The 1930 crop production in Ohio was valued at $182,964,000, or nearly 30 percent less than the value of crops produced in 1929, according to a report of the United States department of agriculture, bureau of agricultural economics.

The drought and low prices, as well as a four percent decrease in total crop acreage were responsible for the low farm value this year, according to A. R. Tuttle, agricultural statistician.

Ohio corn in 1930 suffered materially from the drought. They yielded per acre of 25.5 a bushel is the lowest shown since 1890.

Total wheat production was only slightly below average. Most of the wheat, being winter wheat, matured early enough to escape the serious drought.

Barley, like oats, showed an improvement by the late rains. The final yield reached 90 bushels per acre.

Fruit production was exceptionally light both in 1929 and 1930. The apple crop in 1930 suffered from spring frosts while peaches received most of their injury from low winter temperatures. Pear production showed about a nine per cent increase and grapes about doubled the crop of 1929.

Ohio Girl is Made Happy

MANY times a child has everything to make her happy and still is dissatisfied. This may not be the youngster's fault. Often it is due to a condition easily corrected.

Take the experience of Mrs. H. B. Hopson, 1448 East 88th St., Cleveland, who says: "Nothing seemed to please Leona Mae. She was fretful, feverish, suffered a lot from constipation."

"We saw California Fig Syrup advertised and got some. It relieved her trouble promptly; made her bright and happy again. We have used it for over a year."

Mothers by thousands praise this pure vegetable product. Children love it. Doctors recommend it to relieve constipation, feverishness, fretfulness, headaches; to open the bowels in colds or children's ailments.

Appetite is increased by the use of California Fig Syrup; breath is sweetened; coated tongue is cleared; digestion and assimilation are aided; weak bowels and stomach are strengthened.

For your protection, the genuine always bears the name California.
